Subject: Spagnoli Wrongfull Arrest and Conviction.

Dear Brothers and Sisters,
I hope this finds you all well, in good Health and Spirit!
I write today to request help in me being released from prison in order to provide for and guide and protect my family both young and old.
I know you and you know me, we have got to be free and come together.
Yes, I shot two thugs who molested and terrorized my Grandsons Mother at my home in York County, SC late September 2010. I was protecting myself and family from the two who after being warned to keepout chase to tresspass and threaten my and my familys Lives.
It's been three years and I am unable to obtain my trial transcripts either electronically or on paper. Now I want a release to reconstruct my life and mind after suffering as a result of life threatened accident caused by the State.
I assume I can file a lawsuit for damages However, I am 50% Sinner and 50% Saint. My talents involve proactive promoting Life and Liberty of individuals and manufacturing processing in Food, Pharmaceutical and Chemical Industries domestic and abroad. While I could manage and develop Bio Diesel, Ethanol processing or Scrap metal recycling/Boilermakers, Rewind Electric Motors for domestic applications, ETC. The easiest and quickest means to an end for me would be to identify Enviornmental disaster areas to Water, air and Soil, collect Damages suffered to individuals, communities and Tribes and file Lawsuits to try and settle medical and reconstruction expenses.
In the interim, to protect my people I will be wise to import a Mistura of Anziani and Cappelletti. "Sono Pazzi Questi Romani" Between my fits of paranoia and the Stalled pipeline, I Pray For your understanding and favorable response.
If unable to have me released immediatley, please send Bongos and Boxing gloves to entertain natives who remain Restless in Ridgerille, I welcome the opportunity to discuss any of this in more detail upon request.

May God Bless you all and Merry Christmas!

Cordially,

Steven Spagnoli, Lieber C.I., EBO7 POB205 Ridgerille SC 29472

 ROME CORRESPONDENT

VATICAN CITY — Pope Francis, in an intense, three-day apostolic voyage to Cuba, offered messages of hope to the Church and Cuban society, in the face of continued difficulties and human-rights violations in the communist country.

Coming less than a year after the Holy See brokered détente between the United States and Cuba, this was a diplomatically delicate trip, but also one the Holy Father wanted to hold up as "an example of reconciliation" at a time when the world is suffering from what he called a "piecemeal third-world war."

The Pope spoke frequently during the visit, which concluded Sept. 22, of the importance of authentic service, encounter and accompaniment, the value of poverty and detachment from riches.

"They were three intense days that I would say fully met the expectations of the people and of the Church in Cuba," said Vatican spokesman Father Federico Lombardi. "The Pope has certainly given a great message of hope, despite the difficulties."

Father Lombardi added that the Pope's "great moral authority" and Francis' encouragement in achieving restoration of U.S.-Cuba ties helps in the "search for, and the possibility of, change in the Cuban situation."

But the Holy Father faced criticism for being too lenient on the injustices of the regime, in contrast to more forceful and direct condemnations from Popes St. John Paul II and Benedict XVI.

In particular, political dissidents, many of whom continue to suffer from human-rights violations...
