SUMMARY REPORT

Meeting of Commission on Higher Education, February 7, 1985

The Commission approved a Request for Proposal (RFP) for a study by out-of-State consultants of the system of higher education in South Carolina, and will seek supplemental funding to implement the project.

The following new academic programs were approved:
(1) Certificate of Teacher Preparation, USC-Columbia; (2) J. F. Byrnes International Center, USC-Columbia; (3) B.S. in Retailing, USC-Columbia; and (4) Modification of Existing Master in Health Sciences Program, MUSC.

As a result of a 1982 evaluation of existing degree programs in business, the Commission adopted a requirement that all public institutions offering programs in business be encouraged either to seek accreditation by the American Assembly of Collegiate Schools of Business (AACSB) or to have such programs meet the substantive standards of that agency. The Commission also voted at that time that no institution be authorized to offer new graduate programs in business unless its undergraduate programs are accredited by AACSB or have met the standards of that accrediting agency.

The Commission, following a self-study of the undergraduate business programs at Francis Marion College, noted that while Francis Marion has made commendable progress in this regard since 1982, it does not yet meet the standards of AACSB. The Commission therefore voted not to consider Francis Marion's proposal to add a program leading to the Master of Business Administration degree. The Commission, however, authorized Francis Marion to submit a new self-study of its programs in business for Commission review in 1986.

The Commission also received as information a status report on the review by out-of-State consultants of existing degree programs in Performing and Visual Arts, in Anthropology, Psychology, and Sociology, and in English, Comparative Literature, and Linguistics. Existing degree programs in Education will be reviewed during the 1985-86 academic year.

The Commission approved reports on academic and administrative computing equipment needs at the State's public colleges and universities.

The Commission approved a report prepared by the Council of Presidents of Public Colleges and Universities concerning questions of institutional policy with respect to class attendance
