Comments On Violence on Women
Domestic Violence - Altered Forms of Abuse

To Son N. Half:

Looking back, as a woman with some age, on what is now a bad memory, but a memory, nevertheless I was on the threshold of Domestic Violence. It is easy for a man to be a super good person in every aspect to their kids and everyone else around because they have someone to vent their frustrations someone to expect much more from another person than they do from their own selves, sometimes, the not always, someone to heap worry about financial cares on them. Everyone is always sure that the abused woman needs the strongest counseling, the it should be obvious the perpetrator is lacking greatly. When some men some men do abuse a woman, in some cases applying the legal system and saying around the abuse is overlooked because the man professes love for the person he has abused, I repeat, because he is a super person, usually, to all but the abuse, others may begin to find fault with the woman abused to the extent that they, in their thinking, find excuses, blame, etc. that they feel has less/justifies his behavior. The abused woman is usually surrounded by her folks (seeing Dad as Super Hero no matter how battered their Mother was "Friends?", people who knew both but usually the unbiased have the strongest voice. An abused woman can sometimes feel very alone. Even some Counselors

They become involved with may have a negative view. Yes, abused women need counseling, but even a man may not even get criticism, he may feel he is not the guilty party. So it's a no-win situation, maybe? Who can really say? Statistics prove that a voice really does need to talk. Why so much in S.C. Can persons' thinking be influenced to the point of change! Would T.V. documentaries be a help - arouse awareness ma by side. When a person is paralyzed with fear and they live daily in a prison, to some extent of their own making, could any of steel bars be necessary. The kids are usually along with their mothers in a shelter! I am not, easily less shelter n less exposure for a mother to their children During a transition period of abuse to clear thinking - accepting, the abuse comes to a public focal point. I had intended to be brief -- & apologize.
