

State of South Carolina

Governor's Proclamation

WHEREAS, home care services are committed to providing for an individual's health and social needs across the continuum of life, from expectant mothers, infants, and children, to adults, the disabled, and the elderly; and

WHEREAS, a growing alternative to hospitalization and other institution-based health facilities, home care agencies across the Palmetto State are serving thousands of South Carolinians each year; and

WHEREAS, building upon a strong tradition of care and compassion, home care services strive to keep families together, strengthen the family bond, and support families as they care for their loved ones at home, helping to lessen caregiver stress and placement in more costly institutional settings; and

WHEREAS, home care services enable South Carolinians to receive quality health and social services in their own homes, surrounded by family and friends.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Nikki R. Haley, Governor of the Great State of South Carolina, do hereby proclaim November 2013 as throughout the state and encourage all South Carolinians to recognize the importance of home care to the quality of life of the people of the Palmetto State.
