Good morning all,

Brian – thanks for providing the Total Quality Logistics quote earlier this morning. We've had a slight change in our lineup this week (Ushers Machine & Tool Co. will no longer be announcing but Fitesa will). Thus, I wanted to go ahead and send you drafts and draft quotes for this week's remaining announcements. Let me know if you have any questions or concerns.

Fitesa (Tues., March 15)

"It's another great day in South Carolina as we celebrate Fitesa and its decision to expand operations in Greenville County. With global headquarters already established in the Upstate, this $52 million expansion and the 38 new jobs it will create only adds to the tremendous commitment Fitesa has made to our state." –Gov. Nikki Haley [DRAFT QUOTE / TO BE APPROVED]

Call Experts (Wed., March 16)

"It's always exciting when a homegrown company, like Call Experts, chooses to expand its footprint in our state. This $1.8 million investment, creating 310 new jobs in Charleston County, is a tremendous win for our Lowcountry community and our state as a whole." –Gov. Nikki Haley [DRAFT QUOTE, NOT YET APPROVED]

Revised lineup for the week of March 14:

- Mon., March 14: Total Quality Logistics (Project Move 2 – Greenville County) – investment confidential; 75 new jobs (new)
- Tues., March 15: Fitesa (Project Zapp – Greenville County) - $52,000,000; 38 new jobs (expansion)
- Wed., March 16: Call Experts (Project Dial – Charleston County) - $1,840,000; 310 new jobs (expansion)

Thanks,
Jeremy

I've been on the road to movement mortgage, but will try to get you something before the end of the day. If not, I'll definitely have you something early Monday.

Brian,

Just wanted to follow up on these draft quotes that need approval for next week. Obviously our Total Quality Logistics quote is the most time-sensitive one; we're going to shoot for a 2:00PM Monday distribution if that works on your end.

Thanks again,

Brian,

Good afternoon. I'll be out of the office tomorrow, so I wanted to go ahead and send you our lineup for next week. Obviously, the most pressing one is Total Quality Logistics, as we're aiming to get that one out on Monday. Please see the line-up and draft quotes below and let us know if you have any questions or concerns.

- Mon., March 14: Total Quality Logistics (Project Move 2 – Greenville County) – investment confidential; 75 new jobs (new)
- Tues., March 15: Ushers Machine & Tool Co. Inc. (Project Jewel – Greenville County) - $12,500,000; 50 new jobs (expansion)
- Wed., March 16: Call Experts (Project Dial – Charleston County) - $1,840,000; 310 new jobs (expansion)

Total Quality Logistics:

"It's exciting to see one of the nation's fastest-growing companies make the decision to open up a new office in our state. With this investment, Total Quality Logistics is creating 75 new jobs in Greenville County and making a real commitment to the people of South Carolina. We look forward to working with them as they grow and thrive here in the years to come." –Gov. Nikki Haley [DRAFT QUOTE, NOT YET APPROVED]

Ushers Machine & Tool Co. Inc.:

"It is a true testament to the hardworking and highly-skilled workforce we have in South Carolina when a company like Ushers Machine & Tool chooses to expand operations here. The fact that they are investing an additional $20 million and creating 50 new jobs in Greenville County is great news for our Upstate community and state as a whole." –Gov. Nikki Haley [DRAFT QUOTE, NOT YET APPROVED]

Call Experts:

"It's always a great day in South Carolina when a homegrown company, like Call Experts, chooses to expand its footprint in our state.
