She is going to give an update on evacuations needed, but that is not decided yet. I am looping in Rebecca as I will not be available for the 4:00 call. She may be able to give you an idea at that time.

I want to go ahead and create the next graphic for the 6PM press conference video... I usually go off of the Executive Order titles but there hasn't been a new one since the last video I did. What should I title this press conference? Is there anything in particular she will be addressing.
