Hi ... I have submitted a couple pics for the Spring Photo Contest; however, I do not see them listed in the Gallery. Does it take a while for them to be posted? ... or, perhaps, do they have to be approved before being posted? Also, I notice when viewing the gallery the first name and initial of the person who submitted each photo ... but there was not a place in the submission entry form for this info -- the entry form asked only for an email address. Did I miss something? And ... should I resubmit my photos?

Connie,

We have to approve the photos before they are posted. I just approved yours, so you should see them now! Because the contest is hosted through Facebook, we get the name from your Facebook account. So they are shown as submitted by Connie Joye.

Thanks so much!
