Karen Pierce What is the brown one called that grows on trees limbs. The one in the first picture? Also the one with the red cap on it? I have dogs and these grow in my yard and on my tree... I try to get them up when I find them but I'm worried if they eat them they'll be poisonous?

Bert Elkins Tremella foliacea?
Jelly Leaf

Pamela Woodworth Karen Pierce The Tremella is not poisonous. The red cap is possibly Amanita sp. but difficult to tell since we can not see the stipe. I wouldn't be overly concerned about your dogs munching on them.
