

---

From: Ed DeVilbiss <eddevilbiss@gmail.com>
Sent: Sunday, November 27, 2016 3:11 PM
Subject: Re: Governor Haley as UN Ambassador

Friends in SC,

This piece below clarifies a little known change in succession for Governor Haley. Sure hope this concentration of power does not happen. Hope you all had a good Thanksgiving. ED

<http://www.thenerve.org/wearing-three-hats/>

On Nov 25, 2016, at 1:13 PM, Ed DeVilbiss <eddevilbiss@gmail.com> wrote:

Friends,

A friend sent this along as an interesting comment on our situation in South Carolina.
ED

> Dear Colleagues:

> I delayed our leaving for Thanksgiving in Charlotte as this story is > just > too "delicious" to not comment.

>

> As you saw in the paper the other day, if Haley gets a Trump > appointment,

> Henry McMaster (Lt. Gov.) by law, become the Governor and also by > law,

> President Pro-tem of the Senate, Hugh Leatherman becomes the Lt.

> Gov.

> I understand the only way he can refuse is to resign. Either way SC > will > now have a chance to move forward without his interference.

>

> It is my understanding that Gov. Haley has not yet accepted, but > certainly > hope she does. It would be an excellent job for her and her future.

>

>

> In addition, might it be possible for Tom Davis to be considered > for > President Pro-tem of the SC Senate? That would really bode well for > SC's future. There is probably not a single Republican in BC that > would be against it and would be willing to campaign for him.

>

> Happy Thanksgiving!

>

>