Katherine,

Senator Williams and I were speaking this morning, he was headed to a funeral for James Rawlins Dixon. Mr. Dixon passed away early this week, he was a WWII vet and a POW. His family had been working with Senator Lyndsey's Grahams office to see if he could have full military honors funeral, but he did not meet the requirements. Senator Williams commented when we saw this press release that we wondered if Mr. Dixon had been included in this event and if his medal can awarded posthumously to the family. I have included a copy of his obituary below.

Can you check on this and let me know? I have the daughter, Becky's number if you would like it. I know the family was very disappointed that he could not have full military honors so the awarding of this medal would provide much comfort to the family during this difficult time.

Gov. Nikki Haley Presents WWII Veterans With The S.C. Prisoner Of War Medal

COLUMBIA, S.C. – Gov. Nikki Haley was joined today by Adjutant General Robert Livingston, Jr., Howard Metcalf, Director of the S.C. Division of Veterans' Affairs, and T.J. Martin, former Commander of the S.C. Prisoner of War Commission to present 13 World War II veterans and 7 World War II veterans' widows with the newly-created South Carolina Prisoner of War Medal.

"What we are doing today is something that makes South Carolina even more of a patriotic state, which is giving a Prisoner of War Medal to every person who sacrificed in a way that many of us will never know," said Gov. Nikki Haley. "They taught our country so much. They taught our country what it means to really love and invest in your country. They taught what it means to love your state. They taught what it means to love your neighbors. And they taught us in a way that no sacrifice can ever live up to this. They are heroes, not for the time that they served, but for life."

The South Carolina Prisoner of War Medal was created by S.1173, which was introduced and sponsored by Senator Wes Hayes and signed into law by Gov. Haley on July 2, 2014. The Medal will eventually be awarded to every South Carolinian who has been officially designated as a prisoner of war by the U.S. Department of Defense.

The Medal was designed by the Ex-POW Commission, The S.C. Division of Veterans' Affairs, and the Adjutant General's office.
