

From: Civic Research Institute <info@civicresearchinstitute.com>
To: Kester, Tonykester@aging.sc.gov
Date: 12/15/2015 11:20:09 AM
Subject: Help for survivors of domestic violence seeking justice from a custody court system that is broken

Having trouble viewing? View Web Version here. To receive emails from Civic Research Institute in the future, add us to your address book.

Domestic Violence, Abuse, and Child Custody Legal Strategies and Policy Issues

Edited by Mo Therese Hannah, Ph.D. and Barry Goldstein, J.D.

This widely praised work is an absolutely essential resource for advocates, and for the protective mothers who come to you for help getting justice from a custody court system that is broken. It brings together the best thinking of legal and policy experts, important social science research, successful legal strategies, and compelling personal accounts from those at the front lines working to bring justice to families victimized by abuse.

Order Domestic Violence, Abuse, and Child Custody today—and share it with your advocacy team members and the protective mothers who need your help now:

- * What indicators of domestic violence and child abuse are common in contested child custody cases?
- * Why do abusive men seek custody of their children?
- * How should you present allegations of domestic violence or child abuse to the court?
- * What are the main factors that can result in a child being ordered to live with an abusive parent?
- * What does current research say about the effects on children of witnessing domestic violence? Of being legally separated from a protective mother?
- * What is the proper role of law guardians or attorneys for the minor in custody cases?
- * Why have accusations of "parental alienation" become so commonly used against protective mothers? How should advocates for battered mothers respond?
- * What policies and practices can family courts put into place in order to protect children from an abusive parent?

"This book serves as a beacon of light to all those who have become jaundiced by the malfunctioning family court, social services, law guardian, and mental health system." —Amy Neustein, Ph.D., Co-Author of From Madness to Mutiny: Why Mothers Are Running from the Family Courts and What Can Be Done

Help for protective mothers seeking justice from a custody court system that is broken ...

"A desperately needed manual that will empower generations of victims to fight back." —Wendy Murphy, J.D., New England Law-Boston; author of And Justice For Some

"A must-read for any mother involved in a child custody battle, and especially for mothers trying get free from an abusive relationship."— R. Dianne Bartlow, Ms. Magazine Blog

Order Form

Contents

Catalog

Published in Two Volumes

$249.50

©MMX, MMXVI 1,084pp.

Format: casebound, leather with gold stamp

Order Form

Table of Contents

Catalog Page

"Meticulously researched and cited, so the findings have the greatest credibility. We believe this new book can be used to change the broken custody court system." —Rita Smith,

Former Executive Director, National Coalition Against Domestic Violence (NCADV)

About It

Civic Research Institute, Inc. 4478 Route 27 Ste 202 Kingston NJ 08528
Subscriber Services: 609-683-4450 info@civicresearchinstitute.com

Click here to unsubscribe.