Governor,

Although I am not a resident of your state I am shocked and disgusted at the continued insistence of flying the confederate flag above the state capitol building. Despite repeated assurances that it's nothing more than a symbol of heritage or state's rights; completely disregarding the violence associated with its history, from the Civil War to a century of unchecked white supremacy and systematic persecution of African Americans is appalling and frankly infantile. It's time for South Carolina to grow up and become a positive force in this nation's healing; and removing this flag would be a necessary first step. I certainly have no intention of doing any business or travel in your state while it remains.

Hello Madame Governor, I truly appreciate your remarks that you made today for the media regarding the terrorist act of hate on our country. Nine innocent people lost their lives as a direct result of perpetuates hate. It is imperative that we take action and not support such actions that continues to facilitate means of hate. I ask that you support this by removing the confederate flag. We have a flag that represents our country, ONE NATION, UNDER GOD! The confederate flag has it's place which is in history. If we want to move forward we have to acknowledge this does not belong. Thank you.

I saw your performance after the tragedy at AME. Your phony concern and fake emotions are evidenced by your continued support for unregulated guns and the racist confederate flag you still salute. You are part of the problem and unless you find it in your concrete heart to amend those positions your fake tears and phony concern for others will be seen as the nothing more that then a perpetrator pointing fingers at others than at themselves.

In light of the Charleston shooting it is time to stop pretending that the Confederate flag (as adapted by the state of Georgia) is anything other than a symbol of racist terrorism. How would we feel about the ISIS flag over an American state capital the day after a beheading?

For the record, I am "white," born in Alabama and the gravestones of my ancestors say CSA on them. We can talk about "southern heritage," but enough is enough. That flag is permanently stained with shame. Be willing to be a leader.

Hello Governor,

Please amend your earlier statement regarding the recent domestic terrorism activity at the AME Church earlier this week. You stated that "we do not know what motivated" the gunman.

We do know. If you do not know, I hope you will take the time to sit down with those who do so they may educate you. Meanwhile, the confederate flag flies in your great state and the racial hatred continues to be fed.

Get it together, Governor. You have an election coming.

Dear Governor,

Please do not let this horrible incident go by without addressing the underlying issues regarding racist hatred. One way you could show how serious you are about changing the culture of domestic terrorism, especially towards the black citizens in this country, is to take down the confederate flag that represents the enslavement of others for personal gain.

When are we going to admit that the vestiges of that horrible time in our history is still echoing with us today??? Please, please have the strength of character to bring these ideas up to discuss and actually DO SOMETHING about trying to heal the wound. Words are cheap. Please show some moral outrage and create an action group to change the culture. Every little effort will help.

Thank You!

It is astonishing and disheartening that, even after the racist terrorism that has taken the lives of nine South Carolinians, you continue to advocate flying a Confederate battle flag in a place of honor AND AT FULL STAFF at the state capitol.

Shame on you, and shame on your state. I will not step foot inside South Carolina until that treasonous rag is ripped down.

It is time to take down the flag!

The divisive stance it stands for and what it represents to some only harbor the thoughts and actions of small minded with holes in their hearts to be filled with ignorance and hate.

Stand up for what is right. The confederate flag is a piece of SC history, put it in a museum with the rest of our historic pieces.

Stop meandering about with your grandstand speeches and tears, and let this move you to action.

Hi,

Symbols of hate have no place in our government.

The Confederate flag is not a symbol of southern pride but rather a symbol of rebellion and racism. On the heels of the brutal killing of nine Black people in a South Carolina church by a racist terrorist, it's time to put that symbol of rebellion and racism behind us and move toward healing and a better United States of America!

That's why I signed a petition to The South Carolina State House, The South Carolina State Senate, and Governor Nikki Haley, which says:

"Symbols of hate and division have no place in our government. It's time to stand up for what's right and take down the Confederate Flag!"

The Confederate Battle Flag has no place on public property in the United States. It represents hatred, bigotry and racism, and now, more than ever, it represents death to nonwhites. It is equal to the Swastika. You, of all people, with your rich tradition and with your non-white heritage, should take action to remove the flag. Your job should be much bigger than talking to CEOs, 98% of whom are white males. Your job should be much bigger than the taxpayers' bottom line. Your job should also be to set a shining example. Your job should be to create your own profile in courage. Your job should include figuring out a way to clearly distance yourself from that flag and finding a way to get it taken down.

Governor Haley

First I want to tell you that you are doing a great job, my family and I appreciate all you do for the statè. As a retired Bridgestone Aiken PSR Plant employee and now and employee of the State of SC my request is that you soon address the confederate flag issue at the capital. I am a white 60 year old male and find the flag offensive. Always have and always will. I can not imagine the bad feelings minority's have including our fellow state residence and visitors.

As I said you are a great governor and hopefully some day will try for the presidency of this great country. Please do the right thing and take it down. I am sure many more will appreciate your leadership in this matter than wont.

Thank you for all you do

Dennis [REDACTED]

Your heart should break every morning when you see the confederate flag at your state's capitol. It's a unifying symbol for American racists and white supremacists. How can you possibly be shocked at this incident when you support this type of symbolism condoning a time when people fought to keep humans in slavery?

You should feel shame every day.

With all due respect, it is TIME TO TAKE THE CONFEDERATE FLAG DOWN NOW! It is beyond reprehensible to continue to perpetuate this symbol of non-acceptance, racism & hatred. Be a person of moral fiber & character & take the stand to remove it. If you say South Carolina must heal & come together, then this is a huge tangible committed step in the most positive direction. Have some backbone & make this change now. Does Germany fly the Nazi flag just because it was part of history? DO THE CORRECT MORALLY ETHICAL CHANGE & BRING IT DOWN NOW!

Ms. Haley,

My condolences to you and your state in the loss of life suffered at the hands of a Confederacy sympathizer on Wednesday. You must see the connection between the horror committed and the permissive nature of gun ownership and racial hatred. This hatred is symbolized by the continued flying of the Confederate flag in South Carolina.

Gun laws are needed to keep guns out of the hands of monsters like the accused. You, however, have the power to take down that flag NOW. DO IT!!

A grateful nation will thank you.

Sincerely,

Mary [REDACTED]

Govenor Haley,

The world is watching. The good conscious and will of American rests on your shoulders at this moment. Do not publicly deny that hatred and racism played a pivotal factor in the recent slayings in Charleston.

While you are wrestling with your conscious, please take down that offensive Confederate flag on all government properties. There is no pride or good that can be gained from it. It harms and hurts. Unless you are racist yourself, you'll do this one thing. So much love and healing will be felt.

Do the right thing.

Governor Haley:

For reasons too numerous to mention, but which are especially apparent at this time of statewide and national mourning, it is time to remove the Confederate Flag from the grounds of our State House.

We can show our respect for our fellow citizens, and indeed we can show the nation that we are willing to finally begin to put our slave holding past behind us, if we will take this simple yet major step.

It is time for you to show leadership. It is past time for political ploys and playing to anyone's political base.

Thank you.

My heart hurts for the families in South Carolina. It is an awful act that leaves so many of us asking the God of our understanding how this could happen.

I believe that the Confederate flag Helps to fuel the insensitivity that we saw yesterday. It is time, governor, to replace it.

Assert your leadership, your heart, and your conscience. Just as we would not fly a Nazi flag, it is time to not fly the Confederate flag.

Again, my condolences on the loss of innocent lives in your state.

I have heard you are the face of the new Republican Party, without the racial baggage many in the party.

Then you have an excellent opportunity to demonstrate this - separate South Carolina from the cause of slavery and white supremacy, represented by the Confederate Flag, the Memorial, and Confederate Memorial Day celebrations.

Reject hatred and slavery once and for all. Reject the cause of Jefferson Davis and Dylann Roof.

Governor Haley,

I watched your speech this morning (6/18/15) from Charleston. I spent a fair amount of time reading comments on Facebook. People said everything from you're racist because of the confederate flag on the grounds, to your an idiot because you're pro-gun. What I want to say is thank you. Thank you for all you have done, and continue to do to make our state great. Thank you for shrugging off all of the negativity you receive from your detractors. Thank you for being a classy, well spoken, and all around great governor. I'm proud to have you leading our state. Keep up the great work.

Sincerely,

Governor, I appeal to you to seek God's guidance in understanding how the confederate flag is a symbol of suppression, racism, and evil to all descendants of African-American slaves who were stolen, abused, treated as animals, women raped, families separated, sold like property, denied education, treated I humane. Every time an African-American sees that flag, it is salt in our wounds again. Think of how you would feel, how your family would feel, how the Jewish people would feel if the swastika was a symbol they had to face every day. You have the power, the decency to do something that is right -bring down that flag!!!

Out of respect for the 9 who were murdered in Charleston, take down the Confederate flag. It has no place in these United States. I teach American history; to deny its connection to our racist past is disingenuous at best and dangerous at worst. The victims deserve better than a state government that openly endorses such hatred.

I just heard on TV that the S.C. Flag & US flag are flying at half staff after the horrific shooting at the black church, but you have the Confederate flag up & flying at full height! As someone said, that speaks for itself. They showed a picture of it! If you were really so upset that you were in tears at your press conference, let your actions show it. The flag is so offensive to most of the US citizens & to leave it up & then to leave it at full staff is egregious! I am a white, Christian woman. I am not from your state, but I can't believe you would condone this! Do you believe that "all men are created equal" or not. I just couldn't believe what I was hearing & seeing. I have traveled around & been to many stores with racial slang on clothing, etc. about our President Obama. The way some whites treat him is so horrible. I can't believe you are sincerely upset about 9 US citizens who are black ( African American) being gunned down in a hate crime when you allow this to go on in your state. Maybe if some of the people you know would quit putting bullseyes on people, maybe we could lessen the deaths of innocent Christians! Shame on all of you.

Do you honestly think that flying the confederate flag is appropriate after the act of terrorism that transpired on Wednesday, resulting in the deaths of nine individuals?

With all due respect, I have to tell you that leaving the confederate flag up is a classless, base move if I ever saw one. Furthermore, if you really don't see why leaving the confederate flag up is a bad idea, then perhaps you should seek alternate employment.

Sincerely,

In light of the white supremacist killings in Charleston, you should immediately remove from the state capitol and ban the confederate flag, the symbol of slavery, human trafficking, and a legacy of lynchings, segregation and discrimination which inspires and emboldens people like Dylann Roof.

<SUBJECT>The Confederate flag still flies over the State House grounds in spite of a horrendous hate croime against our citizens. Why?</SUBJECT>

<MSG>

My 2 cents: As a citizen of South Carolina, I will be the first to say that the tragedy, yes a hate crime, that happened in our state last night does not even remotely represent the sentiments or the mindset of the vast majority of our citizens. I have not heard of anyone who does not abhor it, yet there are people out there in other parts of the country who do not see it that way. This photo of the confederate flag flying on the South Carolina capital grounds this afternoon is popping up on Facebook, as well as various news outlets. The flag needs to come down. Regardless of the "honor our heritage" arguments that are frequently used in it's defense, it has become a symbol of hatred to many, and is being rightly called an insult to the memory of the innocent victims who lost their lives, their family, their friends, and many of us who value justice for all. If, as has been stated, the flag can only be brought down by an act of the General Assembly due to the legislative statue that keeps it flying, then our governor needs to call a special session to do exactly that. . The flag's presence on the State House grounds flying at full mast while the U.S and state flags fly at half mast sends the wrong message. The Civil War ended some 150 years ago, The flag needs to go.

 <MSG>

Dear Governor Haley,

I am a citizen of the neighboring state of North Carolina and like so many, have been deeply impacted by the murders at Emanuel AME church. When a group of black people, gathered for Bible study, gets gunned down by a white man in one of the most historically prominent freedom-fighting black churches in the nation, you have chosen to instruct that the US and SC state flags at fly half-mast for 9 days. However, the flag of the Confederacy remains flying at high staff. Thus, my question... how is this possible? It is a shameful and extraordinarily disrespectful statement about the overwhelming privilege of those of us who are white.

One of the victims who was gunned down, honorably served your state, in that statehouse. You have made an unconscionable choice to allow the flag that represents our nation's history of the hate that killed him to fly at full staff.

I respectfully request that you think long and hard about the message you are sending in this choice. I also ask you to reconsider your decision to allow it to fly - at all - but at the very least, put it at half-mast during this time of mourning.

Sincerely,
Jayne [REDACTED]

 <MSG>

Dear Governor Haley,

I would like to extend my deepest sympathy to the families who lost loved ones in the Charleston shooting. We all grieve with you in such a terrible loss. But I hope now you will respectfully reconsider removing the confederate flag from your state house. The confederate flag is a symbol of terrorism and brutality toward African Americans and engenders hate crimes in some people. When young adults like the shooter are reared in a community environment which supports symbols of terrorism, and brutality toward a group, then if positive changes are not made to remove those symbols of hate from official buildings, you share in the responsibility of this horrific act. The young age of the shooter stands out. He is a product of the schools and social/ cultural environment that shaped him. Although he is responsible for the act of shooting the gun, the larger community is also responsible for setting an environment that supports racist symbols that historically stood for white supremacy, abuse, brutality and terrorism of African Americans. As a mother, grandmother, and concerned citizen, I feel obligated to share this information with you for I feel you are a good person and you may not be aware of the potential consequences of public supported offensive racist symbols. I write this letter in hope that the loss of those nine lives, will not be in vain. Although you cannot change everything toward good, you can take a courageous act that says government buildings will not display hateful symbols and that you can advocate for taking down the confederate flag from your state building. Thank you for considering my concerns. This is the first time I have written to a Governor. I felt obligated to take a positive action due to the magnitude of the loss to the entire country. Together we can do better.

Sincerely,

Karen [REDACTED]

Flying the Confederate flag is a disgrace and a shame to this great nation. I cannot believe in the face of what happened in your state Wednesday night, that you are still flying that offensive and irreverent flag which is an insult to the rest of this freedom loving nation. The south is a disgrace to this country. Are you Americans? Or are you just racists? Why don't you simply make it absolutely clear and take down the American flag and leave only the Confederate flag flying? Just exactly what charming and gracious Southern heritage do you think we all are supposed to be honoring and celebrating when we gaze upon your Confederate flag? For the vast majority of these United States that flag is revolting. Wake up! I am white, I live in California, and the last place on earth I ever want to visit his South Carolina.

Ms. Barbour,

It is utterly grotesque the the Confederate flag, a symbol of slavery, is currently flying at full mast over the statehouse. The terroristic murder of 6 Black women and 3 Black men in the name of racial hate demonstrates that South Carolina is still under the thrall of the racism that that flag symbolizes, and the State's promotion of those values via the flag are an affront to all right-thinking human beings. Take it down.

I ask you to consider lowering the Confederate Battle Flag to half mask to show respect to the poor souls that did not deserve to die!! The Civil War is over and will not be fought again!! Its time to move on!!

Thanks again for your kind and sympathetic words...Now please follow up with your actions??? I beg you???

Dear Governor - so the US flag is flying at half staff and the your State flag is flying at half staff, but the confederate flag is still flying high and mighty at your government building. You just don't get it. This is not about freedom of expression -- it's about deep-seated hate and living in the past. The South lost the war. Whether you like it or not, you are part of the UNITED STATES of America. As long as it's acceptable to South Carolinians to fly the confederate flag, this symbol of hate will continue as will the ugliness and destruction we saw yesterday. You have every opportunity to make a change for the better by taking down the confederate flag and burning it.

Dear Governor Haley,

I first want to send my deepest condolences to your state. My question is very simple. I know I am not a Southerner, but why does your State insist upon flying the confederate flag? It is so demoralizing to so many people and might make at least a symbolic gesture to the rest of the world that your state doesn't tolerate these types of hate crimes?

Sincerely,

Jeremy [REDACTED]

My heart goes out to your state.

This church massacre is horrific.

I really believe that the "take back our country " message and that awful Confederate Flag still hanging in your state sent a message to that Terrorist that his plan was ok.

The Confederate Flag symbolizes slavery and all the crimes against humanity that took place in the south over 500 yrs. Unfortunately, I have seen you say those exact words on television yourself. I don't believe that you fully understood what you were saying. I don't think that you know what "state rights" really means.

Americans of African descent do.

It's time to take down that hateful flag.

I applaud you for the tears that you had to fight back in regards to the nine murders that occurred in your state yesterday. Your state is notorious for these types of senseless hate crimes and it's common knowledge that your state flag as well as your attitude towards people of color contribute to this mindset. Your tears were tantamount to a well rehearsed display of sympathy, and the world know you didn't mean it. Historically, think of all the people of color who cried and were humiliated before they were killed just because of the racist mind set and your racist state flag? You see, your tear are less than a drop in a bucket compared to all the tears that have been shed through the history of South Carolina.

Ms. Governor take that flag down once and for all! To fly the flag at half mass indicates your support for the racist deed under the racist is insignia that SC represents, unless you want to be remember like one of your fellow klan-men George Wallace!

Please take down the confederate flag hanging over the State House, and never put it back up. The confederate flag is a constant "stick in the eye" to any black person, many of whom are your constituents. There really is no reason to hang a flag that symbolizes slavery, other than pandering to bigots and racists. I will not visit your state until that flag is down. And I travel a lot, but will never set foot in your state until that happens. I'll also send that message to my wide range of friends who travel.

Dear Governor Haley,

In the aftermath of the slaughter of 9 African-American by, according to all investigation, a White male, it is vital that you remove the Confederate Flag from the South Carolina State House grounds.

The Flag of the Confederacy stands for so much injustice in the eyes of African-Americans, to continue its display not only insults the victims of the recent massacre, but even reinforces the racism and hatred that fueled the attack.

This wave of hatred has to stop. Will you be remembered as one leader who took bold steps to end the hatred?

Thank you,

Sincerely,

Chris [REDACTED]

Please, out of respect for the victims of the Charleston Massacre - take down the confederate flag at the statehouse. For many, it represents a culture that values black people as less than. It is a meaningful gesture that says you stand with the people of your state against the terrorists that claim that flag as their own and that seek to harm their neighbors, just because they're black. That flag is tainted, and needs to go.

nikki haley's PRETEND CROCODILE tears have nothing to do with the enormous historic pain felt by black people, and others seeking redress of systemic racial injustice in your state, in response to yet another racially motivated shooting, and the subtle race-mongering waged by haley and her Rethuglican ilk.

Haley's insistence on keeping the confederate flag flying is a vicious testament to the endorsement of white privilege and harem to African americans.

I am a republican and an conservative but the time has come. The flag may represent history but it has be co-opted by the KKK and other hate groups so like it or not it truly represents oppression and hatred to our black brothers and sisters.

Governor Haley, You have done great things for the state of SC and have the opportunity to make history in so many ways. I know that conservatives will bash you but you will do the right thing for the people of the state you love if you take leadership of an effort to remove the flag. I think you have a future as a national leader and taking the right position on a tough issue like this will only solidify your national presence.

It will make our state a better place and improve our economy. It will also send a message to all the wackos like Dylann Storm that they are on an island - the state and the people of SC do not support anything perceived as hateful by any our people.

I was just informed by a friend, in Seattle, Washington, that the American and South Carolina flags at the SC State House are flying at half staff in respect for the victims of the AME church shooting. However the Confederate flag is flying at full staff in all it's glory.

To me this is a slap in the face to the victims of the shooting as well as to all citizens of South Carolina. I would appreciate you addressing this. If not in public, I would like to discuss with you one on one.

Thank you,

Dear Governor Haley,

I was born and raised in SC; my parents still live there. I was witness to rampant racist speech & behavior in the 21 years that I lived there. The 6/17 incident in Charleston is the most tragic manifestation of racism I can imagine. In reading about the incident, I was disgusted to learn that the battle flag of the Army of Northern Virginia continues to fly at the SC State House. SC will always have racists, but there is no justification for the State to implicitly condone racism. The "heritage not hate" position is entirely vacuous; the top priority of the "heritage" it refers to was the right to enslave black people for profit - that was truly the only "states' rights" issue of any import.

Furthermore, that specific flag was never even the flag of the confederacy, and it only regained popularity when employed by segregationists and the KKK in the mid-20th century. That's what you support by keeping the flag flying.

I implore you to remove the flag from the State House grounds. It is the only good that can come of this tragedy.

Sincerely,

Alexis [REDACTED]

Today, more than ever, we need to consider the message that the Confederate Battle flag flying at the state house symbolizes. It is a heinous one. In light of the tragic shooting last night in Charleston, we must be more conscious than ever of the values represented in that flag. Enough with the "heritage" argument. That flag is offensive to a very wide swath of the state's population. It is an embarrassment to South Carolina. Time to take it down.

I wanted to send condolences and prayers to South Carolina after the senseless, bigoted shootings in Charleston. I don't understand how some people can hold so much hate in themselves, so I just pray. Given this incident, might this be a good time to permanently remove the Confederate flag from the State Capital? I understand the significance in history, but I feel that it presents a very negative image. Just my thoughts on the matter.

My wife and I own a piece of property in Beaufort and will be moving there in a few years for our retirement. I hope the flag is no longer there when we arrive.

Best regards,

A future South Carolina resident.

Dear Governor Haley,

I was devastated to learn of last night's events in Charleston, as I know you were, too. I saw that you wrote that you can't comprehend what could motivate an attack like this (or something to that effect). To me, it is not difficult to imagine what motivated this tragedy - racism. There are 19 known hate groups operating freely within South Carolina, as is their right to do, but I wish that our state was not such a hospitable site for bigots.

History tells us that South Carolina, and Charleston in particular, has long been a center of racial tensions. In recent months, with the shooting of Michael Brown, these tensions have only grown. While the Confederate flag represents an important period in South Carolina's history and struggle for states' rights in the Civil War, it only gained public popularity in the 20th century as a symbol of the segregationist movement, which opposed civil rights. The historical importance of the site of the shooting, where Denmark Vesey led a slave revolt, must not be overlooked, either. We cannot divorce this shooting from the deeply rooted cultural and historical context in which it occurred. Why are we still flying the confederate flag? To me, this is no different from Germans flying the Nazi flag because of "history," which they certainly would not do.

Last week, there was controversy over the Confederate flag being depicted on the cover of the Charleston City Paper, and today, that flag still flies on the State House grounds in Columbia, even as the United States and South Carolina flags fly at half mast, in honor of this devastating tragedy. I urge you, as a born and raised South Carolinian, to please make the decision to finally remove the Confederate flag from the state house grounds. We need to send the message to the rest of the country that SC will not stand for racial violence and that we are not okay with what occurred last night.

I recall your comments from 2014 about having talked with many CEOs who never mentioned having a problem with the Confederate flag, and I wonder if any CEOs have contacted you since to disagree. I graduated from College of Charleston in 2013, where I was a recipient of the Palmetto Fellows Scholarship and the CofC Presidential Scholarship for all four years, with a degree in Computer Science. I now live in San Francisco and work in its booming tech industry, and I look forward to the day that I will speak with you as a CEO. South Carolina has been good to me, by providing me with a free education. I would like to be able to return the favor via tax dollars, but I cannot live in a state that still defends such a hateful symbol of white supremacy. Many of my most brilliant friends and classmates have also left and given up on the state because of its antiquated and bigoted culture. If the moral argument to end racial violence and intolerance is not compelling enough, please consider the practical financial argument - racism is costing SC money, period. Please take a stand and take down the flag, once and for all.

Thank you,

Joanna [REDACTED]

I saw you crying on the news a few minutes ago.

I wonder if you are only crying because SC looks bad in the eyes of the world today.

I have a hard time believing that your emotion has anything to do with the enormous historic pain felt by black people, and others seeking redress of systemic racial injustice in your state, in response to yet another racially motivated shooting.

If you really want to show you value the lives of the people killed last night in the name of white supremacy, you will take down the Confederate flag at the SC State House.

Not fly it at half staff, TAKE IT DOWN.

It is a symbol of a time when white supremacy was unchecked by law.

It is a symbol that is revered by white supremacists today even more than the official flag of the United States.

Flying it at half staff will rub salt and pepper into the wounds (slave reference intentional) of those grieving the good people who died in that act of terrorism at Mother Emanuel.

That flag flying is a symbol of triumph for everyone who agrees with what Dylann Wolf did.

Take it down.

If your tears are real, TAKE IT DOWN.

Dear Madame-

Please take down the Confederate flag. It's deeply disrespectful of the current events in this country and hurtful to a large part of your constituency. Having lived in the lovely state of South Carolina in Charleston in the 90's, I can say from personal experience that the attitudes and bigotries represented by that flag are not commonly held. Please remove it as a visual representation of espousal of those beliefs in front of a public building.

Sincerely,
Meg [REDACTED] MD

Dear Ms. Haley,

I am appalled to hear that the confederate flag flies over the capital. I am disappointed that a woman would not have the courage to remove such a travesty. This would be the time to do this as the state is in mourning and an act of courage would be salubrious among the black community. I have a son and family living in SC and I will be doing my best to have them leave this most disgraceful state. This is 2015 and 1861 seems to be only a few years away. What does it take to erase this horrible stain? If you have to be politically correct for your state, please be courageous for your soul and remove this disgraceful piece of cloth. Act as a courageous woman, not a hack politician.

I had been past the state house a hundred times and never noticed the confederate flag on the rotunda. But I was glad when it was taken down because it is a sovereign flag and has no place with the U.S. flag and the state flag. I thought a good compromise was made by keeping it on the grounds.

In light of the recent tragedy in Charleston I think it is time to remove it completely. I realize this will be politically unpopular and will take more bravery and leadership than politicians are accustomed to. It is the right thing to do for business growth, education and it will help us all heal.

Thank you for your time

First let me say how much I love Charleston. I travel there often, usually extending my trip to Kiawah Island to golf. I have to express my disgust that the confederate flag waves above your Capitol, especially given today's horrible tragedy in Charleston. That flag represents nothing but hate and bigotry of the worst kind. I hope that you will realize how offensive that flag is, and until you do I will no longer travel to South Carolina. Nor will my family. Nor will anyone I know.

It is and will always continue to be an emblem of the white sùpremacy. By allowing it to fly on state property, your state gives the impression of endorsing this world view. Take it down.

I am sickened by the racially motivated murder of innocent worshipers at Bible Study at the historic church in Charleston. While I believe that Governor Haley must be devastated by this horrific hate crime, I don't know how she can conceptualize it apart from the significance of her enabling of the Confederate flag to fly above the State's Capital. To validate this flag and its undeniable historic message by floating it above the Capital building certainly supports an environment that contributes to terrible and biased beliefs. That Governor Haley has defended the flag's presence by announcing that CEO's have not been deterred from business in South Carolina by its inclusion as a state symbol avoids and denies the existence of ongoing racism in her domain. Perhaps money and business are more important than the simple human rights of citizens in her state. I hope that Governor Haley's tears on national television express her remorse for deferring to business and political needs. I was planning my first visit to Charleston prior to this tragedy but I will not contribute to the state's economy until the Confederate flag is removed. Let the dollar convey the message that disgusted Americans have about the continuation of this sordid racial history.

Your state continues to be an embarrassment to our country...as it has been for centuries. I understand that you even continue to fly the confederate flag over the state house. The confederate flag--the ultimate symbol of treason and slavery. Racism is alive and well in your little ugly corner of the south. And possibly you are too thick headed to understand the killer's motive, but the rest of us aren't. "I'm here to kill black people". May I recommend a year or two in an ESL class to improve your understanding of English.

Dear Ms. Haley

The Confederate flag that flies over your capitol is a sign of bigotry and racism.

Surprise ! The South lost the war .

After the terrible killings in Charleston that flag should be removed because it represents everything that is bad about your state seeing that it started the Civil War to protect their slaves.

I am a Civil War buff and probably know more about it than you will ever know.

I heard you say on the news that not one corporation had an issue with that Confederate flag---I am not a corporation just an individual that thinks that flag should be in a museum somewhere and not flying at FULL STAFF over your office.

Sincerely

Gov. Haley,

The first thing you should do to change the racial atmosphere in SC is to stop flying the Confederate flag on State grounds! This symbol of slavery and apartheid essentially validates the racists attitudes that are widespread in the State. Even Texas understands this, as their refusal to allow in on license plates was upheld by the Supreme Court. It's extremely offensive to African Americans and has no business being flown by the State! My father and his siblings were born there but migrated North in the 40s/50sas as young adults and they rarely went back. That flag will NEVER be flown again by the State of Virginia - time for SC to get with the program.

Terry [REDACTED] (yes, my name is from SC)

I understand that the flag of slavery, racism, and treason still flies at the South Carolina capital. The banners of the Confederacy have no place in government activities of South Carolina or any other state that engaged in treason a century and a half ago. Even Texas had the integrity to not put the Confederate Battle Flag on its license plate for any reason.

Do you have the integrity to bring that flag down?

Please do not use the Confederate flag as a symbol to honor yesterday's victims at the Emanuel African Methodist Episcopal Church in Charleston

History equates this flag as a symbol embracing White Supremacy and Racism.

Considering that all account are pointing to this act as a hate crime, it seems detrimental and hateful to use the confederate flag in this way.

If you must use a symbol, use something that represents love and tolerance.

Thank you.

Dear Governor... I CANNOT believe that you have a confederate flag flying in the first place, but to have it flying on such a tragic day - incomprehensible. I CANNOT wrap my head around this.

This day is a shame on our entire nation, and the fact that you - of all people, after the press conference this morning - have a CONFEDERATE FLAG and all that it represents, flying at the state capital, is beyond any humanity and decency.

This day is shameful not only for the atrocity that occurred at Mother Emanuel AME, and the sick, unbalanced, racism that bred it, but now for the confederate flag.

TAKE IT DOWN. You are adding to our shame.

Dear Governor,

It is a terrible symbol to the entire world that the confederate flag flies high in the wake of the murders in Charleston yesterday. Whatever the related heritage in your state to that flag, it is clearly a symbol of white supremacy to most of the country and the world. Having that flag not even lowered after this massacre by a young man sporting that symbol is disgusting AND it elevates white supremacists right now. White supremacists could be celebrating this horrible massacre as a victory as their flag stands high regardless of this tragedy. It is a symbol of the ignorance of the South Carolina people to understand that it is a symbol that needs be rejected.

My sympathies to everyone touched by this tragedy. Flag's are flying at half mast except the one that should be more than any other...

Sincerely,

Lauren [REDACTED]

Dear Governor Haley,

While we know that Charleston is one of the most beautiful and architecturally interesting cities in the U.S. (we are big on history/architecture), we have avoided your state as a destination given the state government decision to fly the Confederate flag over government buildings. Nothing has made the practice look more anachronistic and wrong-headed than the murders perpetrated in Charleston Yesterday. Isn't it time to stop a practice that appears to condone the bigotry (and worse) of the past? The mere fact that one's forefathers held a philosophy does not make that philosophy right. Please embrace the wake-up call visited on South Carolina yesterday, and re-think a policy that might well bolster misguided or even evil intentions. Change often requires not only effort but fortitude. Please be the catalyst for this long needed step forward for South Carolina.

Gov. Haley,

I watched you choke up as you spoke about the tragic incident at the AME church in Charleston. I can only hope that emotion was sincere because if it was, you have an obligation to promote and to accomplish the banishment of the confederate flag on statehouse grounds. Disrespect, racism, insensitivity and more represents the message from this state that tonight flies the flag of racism and hate high instead of being at half staff showing respect and sorrow over this tragic incident. The message sent to the world is not what SC truly is nor what it hopes to represent itself as. It is not what I as a resident want my state message to be. The state suffers from an image problem without exasperating it with this embarrassment. End the hate!

Now is the time for the Governor to step up for all of South Carolina and her people. Take down the Confederate flag. The Civil War is over. Put it in a museum. Help the state heal. This week's tradgey has shown we have not made the progress we think. This can be a bold step in the right direction to move towards the future and not dwell in the past of hate, discrimination, degradation, and pain. Move forward! Stop hurting the state's economy and its people because of nonsense archaic views. Stand up to the good ole boys who have run South Carolina for to long. Show that the Governor care about all of the people in the state. Morn with those who have been hurt this weekend but honor them by saying enough is enough and we will not stand for prejudice, racism or violence! No, not in the state...not in our name! Take it down!

Good Evening

Like so many people I am very sad over what happened in your State yesterday. I have often thought about vacationing in your State. When I heard you fly the Confederate flag I decided I will not ever visit your State and I will avoid buying products produced in your State.

I could put a NAZI flag on my home which would be my right but it would be a terrible insult to those who fought for America. I think that Confederate flag encourages the abuse, murder, and oppression of our black Americans. Perhaps it played a part in this awful incident.

REMOVE IT NOW

Is the flag of South Carolina - the confederate flag still flying at full staff over the state capitol? According to the internet it is. If it is. It shouldn't be. Even flying that flag at half mast is an insult to the victims of the church shooting. But flying at full mast is a horrible insult.

In light of the massacre at the AME church, I respectfully request you remove the Confederate flag from all Federal buildings. This flag is divisive and has no place in today's society. This nation is in a race war and if we don't come together soon, I fear we will dissolve into chaos. Please take the lead on this issue and show the rest of the country what the south is really about. Thank you.

As a 68 year old woman from the Seattle, Washington area most of my life, I'm so ashamed of the lack of respect shown to African-Americans by southern states. As the governor of South Carolina does it not occur to you to show some leadership and require the Confederate flag to be flown at half mast? As a female leader, do you think you are sending the right message to younger women, other southern states and the world. It's the 21st century; please step up to the plate and do the right thing.

You are showing a lack of sensitivity; thus giving women a bad name - shame on you.

1. Is South Carolina making plans to curtail the mentally unbalanced or the avowedly racist from having access to guns?

2. Is the Confederate Flag over the State Capitol being flown at half mast?

The Confederate flag you fly is a rallying point for hate-filled, racist terrorists like the one who just killed innocent women and children in your state. Take it down. It shames us. Pretending that you can't comprehend this is a cynical cop out.

Shame on you for continuing to condone this symbol of racism and hatred. I have boycotted South Carolina since the NAACP called for it in 1999 and will continue to do so. As a trained historian I know how myth and ideology have supplanted truth. Remove the Confederate flag from the State House grounds.

 <SUBJECT>Lowering of the Confederate flag to half staff</SUBJECT>
 <MSG>

Dear Governor Haley:

This morning on CNN I learned that while the American flag at the capital is lowered to half staff in memory of those killed in Charleston, the flag at the Confederate Memorial is still flying at full staff. As a southern born gentleman and former resident and former business owner who also served as the "Adopt A Highway" Coordinator for Greenville County in the beautiful state of South Carolina I am disappointed, embarrassed and too many other negative adjectives to list here, over this issue. The Confederate flag is an honorable representation of pride to folks, such as me, to all true and mature southerners. I would respectfully and emphatically request that the flag at the Confederate memorial located at the Capital building be lowered to half staff immediately in honor of those killed in the shooting in Charleston. Too much effort went into having that flag and memorial at the capital to allow the citizens of South Carolina to be embarrassed, on national media no less, by not lowering it as was done with the American flag that flies over the capital building. I kindly request that this issue be addressed post haste.

Respectfully,

T.Dwight [REDACTED]

Furthermore, get that Confederate flag down now. Tell me ONE good thing that flag represents. Put it to the legislature NOW. Let them put up or shut up--and enshrine their vote for bigotry for the world to see.

By the way, I'm holding my breath on that last request.

Dear Governor,

It was with horror that I saw the Confederate Flag still flying high and proud in your capital today. I also read your comments that you speak to hundreds of CEOs and none have mentioned the flag. I write to tell you that you are not talking to all CEOs. I own and operate a law firm, and I will not be doing business in South Carolina. And as a mother, I discourage my kids from considering going to college or working in a state that flies that symbol of hatred and brutality. They will be hearing the speech from me again today - that symbols matter and that that symbol bolsters a sense of white supremacy. It is ugly and wrong and, by the way, "un-Christian." As a kid I enjoyed visiting Fort Sumter with my dad. As an adult, I will not visit your state for any reason until that flag comes down.

Sincerely yours,
 Beth A. [REDACTED]

In the wake of the tragedy in Charleston, I would like to express my feelings about the confederate flag still flying in South Carolina. My children went to USC in Columbia and every time I visited, my heart sank when I saw the flag at the State House. Also, we lived in Greenville for a short time, and I cringed every time I saw a confederate flag flying. And today I read that the confederate flag is not flying at half-mast today - I don't understand this! Please do something - this is not who we are as human beings. Regardless of what some white people (I am white) want to say the flag is really representative of, we know what it really represents and we should not allow a group of people in this country to have to endure the memories and feelings of what this flag really represents. We are better than that and it is time for you Governor to stand up for what is right. Get legislation passed that will ban the public flying of this flag once and for all.

In recognition of the loss of nine lives that - individually, and together - helped to make your State a vital and wonderful community of many voices, I call upon you to take the daring stand and lower the State flag in true tribute.

Dear Governor Haley,

In the recent terrorist attacks which occurred at the AME Church in downtown Charleston...I hope the flag being lowered include the confederate flag. To be honest, if you really are sincere with your comments(which I believe you were) in the press, the flag really should come down.

The confederate flag symbol represents divisiveness among all African American people...this would be a 1st step.

In addition, passing laws allowing guns to come in the a house of Worship, got us to this.

While my heart goes out to the family of those so savagely murdered...it goes out for Dylann Roof and his family as well. I pray that he asks God to forgive him and can start healing.

This will continue to happen unless as the President stated, we start a dialogue to discuss the racism that still exist in America.

I hope you will consider as least lowered the confederate flag also.

Regards & God Bless,

Arline

Dear Governor Haley,

So many of us from around the country are mourning with the good people of South Carolina the loss of life and the horrific tragedy that occurred in Charelston this week. This clearly was a racially motivated crime that strikes yet another blow to the fraying fabric of our efforts as a nation, in spite of the great challenges, to create a pluralistic democracy that ensures basic rights for people of all races, nationalities and religions. I have to believe that it pains you, as much as it does so many of us, to see in this dark moment, the confederate flag still waving high over the capital of your beautiful state.

Whatever else it may be, it is also a symbol, for most Americans, and particularly black Americans, of racial violence and hate. This is a symbol we can no longer afford to celebrate or even tolerate. So many great leaders are faced with crucial, morally significant but politically costly decisions at some critical point in their careers. Those that recognize the deeper call of the moment and lead us to greater understanding, collaboration and unity as a people are the bright lights that guide us as we continue to engage in this great social experiment. I pray that God will grant you the strength and fortitude to answer the call of this moment and to be that bright light for the people of South Carolina and for all of us during this difficult time. Respectfully, Pamela [REDACTED]

Dear Governor Haley:

The act of racially motivated terrorism that will now forever scar the beautiful city of Charleston will be the subject of debate, political posturing, and pandering for the next few weeks. I just heard well crafted remarks from you, Governor, on a radio broadcast. I also learned that the confederate battle flag is still flown over your capitol, the argument being that this banner is representative of your "heritage."

The Nazi flag no longer flies over the capitol in Berlin, despite being a part of that nation's heritage. The German nation is rightfully ashamed of that part of their heritage. Just like the third reich, the confederacy is dead, Governor. It was defeated in a righteous war, as it should have been, as it must have been.

Before you speak of "tragedy," Governor, consider your own role in this crime. You and all the other elected officials of South Carolina who have allowed that flag to fly must share in the blame. This was not a tragedy. This was racially motivated terrorism, fostered in part by a government that instead of denouncing past sins, pays homage to them. Take down the flag Governor. The war is over. The South lost, as well it should have.

Vernon [REDACTED]

P.S. My great grandfather fought for the CSA - a part of my heritage for which I am very much ashamed.

Thank you for the work you do to serve South Carolina and for being a vital part of this country. We all are grief stricken by the tragic event in Charleston. Predictably, there are and will be cries to ban guns, and because of the race of the victims, cries to remove the Confederate flag from the Capital. My prayers go out to the families of Charleston affected and for you as leaders dealing with this crime. Please note the drugs taken by the suspect and the same pattern for other criminals in mass murders. Let's address this. There are laws for guns. Let's maintain our right to bear arms. The people crying about the flag want to define for others what the flag means, usually these are the people who are tolerant of everything but what is honorable and truly sacred.

In the wake of the horrible massacre at the AME church, it is no longer possible to continue excusing the flying of the Confederate flag on the South Carolina state house. The flag is the symbol of the racial hatred that has long plagued South Carolina and other southern states and which expressed itself in the senseless hate crime at Emanuel Church.

Please help the citizens of your state in their healing. Please take the first step in ending racial hatred. TAKE DOWN THAT HORRID FLAG!

Thank you,

Dear Gov. Haley: I was surprised to learn tonight that you govern over a state which proudly flies the Confederate Flag. Tomorrow when you go to your office, I would just have one question for you...are you proud of what that flag stands for? I used to be a moderate Republican until 2010 when I saw the hatred which the GOP stands for. Maybe you can at least fly your disgusting Confederate flag at half mast. Sadly, I am guessing that would not go over well with you and your racist constituents. I live in a state with a Republican Governor (Mike Pence). He just hates gay people, but thank goodness he has not yet moved to flying the Confederate Flag. My advise, take that flag down and put it in a museum. I just do not understand why the GOP always stands up for the past. You and the GOP are always looking backwards which is why I will be voting forward, and it will never be for a Republican candidate for President of our great County.

Sincerely,

Carol [REDACTED]

I saw you crying on the news a few minutes ago.
I wonder if you are only crying because SC looks bad in the eyes of the world today.

I have a hard time believing that your emotion has anything to do with the enormous historic pain felt by black people, and others seeking redress of systemic racial injustice in your state, in response to yet another racially motivated shooting.

If you really want to show you value the lives of the people killed last night in the name of white supremacy, you will take down the Confederate flag at the SC State House.

Not fly it at half staff, TAKE IT DOWN.

It is a symbol of a time when white supremacy was unchecked by law.

It is a symbol that is revered by white supremacists today even more than the official flag of the United States.

Flying it at half staff will rub salt and pepper into the wounds (slave reference intentional) of those grieving the good people who died in that act of terrorism at Mother Emanuel.

That flag flying is a symbol of triumph for everyone who agrees with what Dylann Wolf did.

Take it down.

If your tears are real, TAKE IT DOWN.

 <MSG>

To the governor and legislators of the State of South Carolina. I am a third generation Italian American. My grandfather fought in WW1, my father and uncles fought in WW2. I served in the U.S. Army during the Vietnam war. We all fought alongside people of all races in order to preserve freedoms for all races around the world. The flag of the confederate states of America, whether intentional or not, is a contentious symbol of racial hatred to many people. Both perpetrators of racial hate and victims of the racial hatred. As an American, I am disgusted to see that flag continue to fly upon the honorable grounds of the state of South Carolina. I am at a loss of words to try to understand what possible reasoning can be justified to fly that flag knowing the pain it causes to people in our country. It has no place in my America. The America that says it is the leader of freedom in the world, the leader of human rights in the world. I implore the great state of South Carolina to recognize the harm that the flag continues to cause in our country, and further I implore your state not only to remove the flag from the State but also to tell everyone across our country that the flag should be retired to historical museums. Please, please understand the pain this flag causes to free people across our country and be considerate of all the citizens of our country. Sincerely and respectfully, Frank [REDACTED]

As a property owner in SC I am embarrassed and enraged that the confederate flag would fly at the capitol building. What kind of leadership style is that? Is the legislature promoting an environment of repression against black citizens circa 1861? Why are we perpetuating a divisive policy? The flag is a powerful symbol of intolerance not a charming antiquity. Taking it down would be an easy first step towards healing.

As an equestrian, I have the opportunity to travel to your state every winter to train and ride. I choose to stay away. Why? Because of your failure to confront and deal with hate groups in your state. You and I and every person I could reach on social media knows that the confederate flag stands for racism. Period. Every single day that flag flies on your pole, in front of your office, I know I am better off anywhere else.

Take it down.

 <MSG>

Dear Governor Haley,

I appreciate your warm, heartfelt comments regarding the terrorist hate crime in Charleston. I truly believe your words are a step towards healing for the families and congregation of Emanuel African Methodist Episcopal Church. I have one concern. The Confederate flag still flies at your state's capitol. That flag has been an image used for hate against African American people for decades, and I'm certain you and your constituents are aware of this. At this time, the most sensitive and sensible thing to do would be to take that flag down permanently. This imagery is comparable to the Swastika. It reminds people of centuries of slavery and decades of oppression and inequality. Furthermore, it almost justifies hate. The state Government has a responsibility to eradicate hate and not perpetuate by proudly flying images that support dissension and racism. I hope you understand my concern. I understand that this is an issue that has to be addressed by the state legislature, but with your influence and power, I know you can make a difference in this matter. Thank you for taking time to read this, and I hope you will influence change in your state that may bring people closer to unity and solidarity.

Sincerely,

Gary [REDACTED] MD

It is way past time to retire the Confederate flag. Please take it down. Its continual presence causes pain to many, many people in South Carolina and across the United States.

I see on television news that the state flag is approximately at half staff, but the Confederate flag cannot be lowered for African Americans.

This tells us that those who continue to claim this blood stained and dishonored flag do not exercise basic human decency. If this dishonored flag must fly, it must be lowered to half staff.

It is only decency.

Your tears for the dead were insulting. You clearly support racism. How ugly. How can you hate people and I bet you claim to be Christian. Jesus is crying, and unlike yourself, for real. Racism is rampant in your state and you are the leader, proudly displaying the Rebel flag, which makes a racist statement and you know it. I am not a Christian, partly because of the hypocrisy, but I try to love all people, unlike many Christians. Maybe you need to reread the bible.

Please have the Confederate flag at your state capitol building lowered to half-staff-- or removed. Flying it at full-staff-- and indeed flying it at all-- sends an implicit message of approval to white supremacist murderers like the young man who assassinated Pastor Pinckney and the eight other people a little over twenty-four hours ago. Please. Our nation needs to disavow the symbols of slavery and segregation that still function to create division, hatred, and violence of the kind that people like Dylann Storm Roof embody.

Ms. Haley,

I was not moved by your alligator tears today. Not as long as you fly that confederate flag over your office.

That flag represents slavery and the hate that Mr. Root exhibited today.

You are the problem, your state is the problem. You have that flag of hate over your office and refuse to remove it. Your state refuses to have hate crimes and your state has over 19 hate groups, one of the most in the country.

Your state and you are nothing but small minded bigots that spread hate.

Your tears were disgusting, as are you.

In honor of those massacred in the racially motivated hate crime at Emanuel African Methodist Episcopal Church in Charleston, and in condemnation of those who would use cowardly violence to promote ongoing racial prejudice in our society, please remove the confederate flag from the South Carolina Capitol building. Because we should not publicly condone, honor or memorialize apartheid, slavery or any society which had racial oppression as it's foundation. It's time for a new chapter in South Carolina. This should have been done a long time ago. I appreciate your leadership in this matter.

Dear Madam Governor,

With all due respect, we citizens are exhausted by gun violence. We are tired of watching our elected officials shed their tears and issue useless statements of grief every time citizens are murdered by monsters with guns. Instead, you might try to take some action. Here are two suggestions: tighten up your lax South Carolina gun laws and take down that confederate flag.

Dear Governor Haley,

All of us share your grief at the killing of nine Black People. Hate crimes like this are happening all too often and everyone has a responsibility to look into their hearts to find what we all must do to stop all of these senseless kills -- especially hate crimes. I never stop grieving when I hear of yet more senseless killings in our country.

One thing your state can do is to take down the confederate flag. The following article by Rachel Gross contains the sentiments of many Americans who are mourning:

If you're the governor of a state that suffers a tragedy, the common sign of respect is to fly all the state's flags at half-staff. It's what Connecticut Gov. Dannel Malloy did in 2013, after the Sandy Hook Elementary School massacre. It's what Colorado Gov. John Hickenlooper did in 2012 after the Aurora movie theater shooting. It's also what South Carolina Gov. Nikki Haley did today, after a white man in Charleston, South Carolina, allegedly shot and killed nine people at a historically black church in an act that is already being investigated by the FBI as a hate crime.

Lowering the flag is a widely recognized gesture, a way to honor the dead as the state and country mourn. In South Carolina, however, one flag is a potent symbol of racism-and a symbol claimed by the alleged gunman himself in the form of a decorative plate on his car. So why is the Confederate flag, which flies over the grounds of South Carolina's Capitol Complex, still waving in the breeze at its peak height?

To understand what seems like a shockingly callous move, first you have to understand what the battle flag is doing there at all. (After all, it's not South Carolina's state flag, the palmetto flag, which features a rather beautiful tree and crescent design.) The Confederate flag used to fly proudly atop the State House dome itself, ever since the state's then-all-white legislature voted that it be so in 1962 as a symbol of defiance against the Civil Rights movement. It would take nearly 40 years, a boycott by the NAACP that reportedly cost the state more than $7 billion, massive protests, and the condemnation of presidential nominee John McCain for the Legislature to reconsider flying such a flag on the building that represents their state government.

Finally, in 2000, the state passed a bill banning the Confederate flag from being flown over the State House dome as well as in the chambers of the Senate and House of Representatives. It was moved to the south side of the Confederate Soldier Monument, where it stands now. Along with the move came a new statute. "This flag must be flown on a flagpole located at a point on the south side of the Confederate Soldier Monument, centered on the monument, ten feet from the base of the monument at a height of thirty feet," it reads.

What that means is that in South Carolina, the Confederate flag abides by its own rules. While governors-as well as the president-can usually order that all state and national flags within their jurisdiction be flown at half-staff, this one is exempt. Instead, the Confederate flag's location can be changed only by a two-thirds vote by both branches of the General Assembly. "In South Carolina, the governor does not have legal authority to alter the flag," said a press secretary for Haley. "Only the General Assembly can do that." That is why, while other flags under the authority of the state have all been lowered in mourning, this one is still flying so audaciously. Even if Haley could order it lowered, it's not clear that she would; in the past, she's actually defended keeping the flag on state grounds, reassuring voters that it's done nothing to harm the state's image.

Since the General Assembly ended its 2015 legislative session on June 5, it's likely the Capitol's Confederate flag will continue to fly high, while the families of the shooter's nine black victims mourn the carnage of this hate crime.

Thank you for your attention to this matter. It would be a great first step.

Sincerely,
Pauline [REDACTED]

I would like to join what I am sure are thousands of citizens in condemning you for allowing the Confederate flag to continue to fly over the South Carolina capital. It is most insensitive and hateful, especially in light of what has just happened at the church in Charleston. The Confederate flag is a symbol of hatred, bigotry and white supremacy. Additionally, it is a throw back to the hateful and cruel days of slavery. Be a leader. Stand up for uniting the people of your state and this country. Which brings me to gun control: Congratulations on being a state where a troubled and racist young man can get access to a gun with no training, license, background check or any other safeguards. You and the NRA and all of the legislators who continue to allow this to happen have the blood of the innocents on your hands.

I will personally boycott S. Carilina and I am going to take the time to write to every corporation that meets or hires in your state. You can honor the dead by having the decency to remove the flag that symbolizes the institution of slavery. Do the right thing voluntarily. Show America where you stand and who you stand with.

It is an International and National disgrace for an actual state to be flying this flag. It is all about HATE, RACISM and SLAVERY. It is time for South Carolina to join the United States of America. Flying this flag in the face of a mass assassination in your historic Church is beyond belief. This 21 year old kid has been taught racism. You are NOT born with HATE. YOU LEARN IT. Every day you fly that flag is a disaster. Time for the South to speak the truth. I wonder how many members of the KKK are in YOUR ADMINISTRATION? Do the right thing. Take the flag down and then start a comprehensive anti hate education program. Teach the truth in schools about how South Carolina was completely wrong to be a member of the confederancy. A group of rogue states that promoted HATE. Time to grow up and start teaching love thy neighbor. You guys make me sick to be an American.

If your state is truly going to start healing from the tragic events at Emanuel African Methodist Episcopal Church you need to permanently remove the confederate flag from all public buildings. That flag is a symbol of racial hatred for many within the black community.

I saw you crying on the news a few minutes ago.
 I wonder if you are only crying because SC looks bad in the eyes of the world today.

I have a hard time believing that your emotion has anything to do with the enormous historic pain felt by black people, and others seeking redress of systemic racial injustice in your state, in response to yet another racially motivated shooting.

If you really want to show you value the lives of the people killed last night in the name of white supremacy, you will take down the Confederate flag at the SC State House.

Not fly it at half staff, TAKE IT DOWN.

It is a symbol of a time when white supremacy was unchecked by law.

It is a symbol that is revered by white supremacists today even more than the official flag of the United States.

Flying it at half staff will rub salt and pepper into the wounds (slave reference intentional) of those grieving the good people who died in that act of terrorism at Mother Emanuel.

That flag flying is a symbol of triumph for everyone who agrees with what Dylann Wolf did.

Take it down.

If your tears are real, TAKE IT DOWN.

I have ask you to please consider the loss of life and the emotions of anti-blacks in your state. You continued to support guns and the right to continue raising the confederate flag. Now you have a murder of nine beautiful people in your state from a gun nut, anti-black person. Maybe, just maybe, you will look at your racist, gun nut, state and reconsider your ideas. What an awful crime that is on your steps. You are to blame based on your lack of support of gun control measures that takes the guns out of sick, mean, mentally ill people. Shame on you. Stop crying for the camera and do something about it. I watched you on the news tonight and thought what a distorted view you have of the world. You will go right back and support more guns for young people and kiss up to the NRA. Shame on you.

The fact that you continue to fly the Confederate Flag from your Statehouse is a slap in the face to the vast majority of African Americans, and you should be deeply ashamed and embarrassed. You contribute to a caricature of the South which may be unfair but will continue until you stop romanticizing a past that any reasonable person would consider a blood drenched nightmare. After the Third Reich Nazi symbols were banned from public display in Germany. I'm proud to live in a country that guarantees free speech to an extent that such bans are impossible, but as representatives of the people you have the responsibility to not display a symbol which represents violence and hate. By doing so you give aid and comfort to terrorists and murderers. Show some respect. Show some class. Take it down. Until you do so I will never conduct any business in or visit your state, and I will lobby any organization I conduct business with to follow suit.

As a citizen of the United States, I am incredibly ashamed and embarrassed that ANYONE in this country could stand for a symbol of intolerance such as the Confederate flag that STILL sits atop of your statehouse.

In what universe is it still OK to fly a flag that symbolizes slavery, oppression, murder, racism, and the list goes on and on. It may not mean this to (some) South Carolinians, but to the rest of the country, it sure as hell does.

Wake up, folks. Time to clean up your front, back and side yards. Enough is enough. Your behavior is incomprehensible and reprehensible.

I'm a South Asian American, and like you and so many others, am deeply disturbed and heartbroken by the shootings in Charleston. I understand that you have defended the display of the Confederate flag on the grounds of the statehouse in Columbia. But I would also ask you to please take down the flag, which is a historic symbol of racist ideology and actions targeting African American communities. I stand against racism and inequity. I hope you will too.

I am writing as a citizen of these United States to request that the confederate flag be removed from all state buildings and properties. It is a symbol of oppression, slavery, hatred, and violence against African-Americans and all minorities. While the state's decision to fly this oppressive symbol did not directly cause the terrorist massacre in Charleston, it indeed gives legitimacy (intended or not) to the sick ideologies that drove this murderer and others who would carry out such crimes of hatred and violence. That the office of the governor would allow this flag to be displayed with pride is ethically and morally indefensible. Take it down. For the sake of decency and beginning the long road to healing what is a terrible and deep wound in this country, take it down. Deny its legitimacy and its power. Take it down.

Rather than asking for death penalty for latest mass shooter how about

LOWERING THE CONFEDERATE FLAG TO HALFMAST (pulley or no). That would say and mean so much more than your sound bites. Show some spine.

It is long past time to take down the flag of the defunct Confederate States of America. Flying the flag tells citizens that you believe in a traitorous secessionist time of strife where blacks were slaves and considered less than human.

If you want to honor the traitors who fought for the secessionist confederacy, perhaps a memorial tomb of an Unknown Soldier.

I was born in SC in 1970 and have always loved my home state. I moved away in 1996 but my entire family still lives there (York Co). Isn't it time to end the flying of the confederate flag on the state grounds? I am white and have always been proud of being a "Sand Lapper" (I can still sing the song I learned in elementary school), but to be honest, I am kind of ashamed at the moment of my home state of SC.

Sincerely,
Charles [REDACTED]

<MSG>

Good Morning

In the aftermath of the shooting in Charleston, flags across the State of South Carolina are lowered at flag staff. Clementa Pinckney was a Senator and Resident of Jasper County. My question is why is there no flag/flag pole at the Jasper County DMV to be lowered. This is a state office, employing state workers, is a Troop Office for Highway Patrol, but in front of the building is nothing. I have personally never paid attention to other DMV offices, however if there is not flags/flag poles at each office. I find this to be a problem that needs to be corrected.

Thanks

This flag symbolizes the south as it is today. It says our country is divided and not United. Please remove it and keep it in museums as a part of our history.

Your excellency,

The confederate flag needs to come down. It is insensitive and disrespectful to have it flying at all. Considering the events of this week you should have more respect for the people that died and their families. I understand it is not your decision alone to let it fly...but maybe it needs to start with you. It shouldn't matter that you have never had a ceo discuss the flag. You represent the people that elected you.

Dear Governor Haley,

Flying the Confederate flag at half mast is not enough. The flag stands for hatred of the north, the midwest, the west -- in spite of all these being part of the United States. The flag stands for division, not for unity.

The flag stands for racism and hatred.

Please remove it. South Carolina is a lovely state. Sure a different flag can be devised, perhaps featuring a tree native to your state.

The killings in Charleston will be a black mark on the South for a long time. You can help erase that blot.

Dear Governor,

First my condolences for the mass shooting that happened. It is a terrible tragedy. I'm not writing to you about gun control but about racial tension. I understand you requested the American flag be flown at half staff, but seriously how can you walk into work every day knowing the Confederate flag is flying high over the building? Taking this down may be a step in the right direction towards easing racial tension in your state.

Regards,

Dear Governor :

If you are truly broken hearted about the murders of 9 African Americans, then have the courage to take down the Confederate Flag flying at the state house. As a citizen of SC, I am offended and embarrassed.

South Carolina Governor Gets Called Out For Cowardly Confederate Flag Defense
One viral Facebook comment perfectly summed up the outrage many are feeling.
By Zaid Jilani / AlterNet
June 19, 2015

Following the tragic mass killing in Charleston, one figure many have turned to for leadership is the state's Republican governor, Nikki Haley. She has not provided that leadership.

Her initial comment on the shooting eluded the racism explanation altogether, leading one of her constituents to condemn her remarks in a Facebook post that went viral:

This morning, Haley appeared on CBS Morning News and was asked if it is finally time for the state to stop adorning government buildings with the Confederate Flag. Haley dodged the question, refusing to give her personal opinion, and seemed to imply that a debate over the flag would be too traumatizing for her state:

HOST: There are also calls today that you have to take the Confederate flag down from the state capitol. How do you address those calls?

HALEY: I think that...at a time like this, you have to look back at what we've done. Fifteen years ago the General Assembly at the time they had a conversation. The Republicans and Democrats and everybody came together on a consensus to bring the Confederate flag down off of the dome. And they put it on a monument out in front. I think that conversation will probably come back up again. And you what we hope that we do things the way South Carolinians do. Which is have the conversation, allow some thoughtful words to be exchanged, be kind about it. Come together on what we're trying to achieve and how we're trying to do it. I think the state will start talking about that again. We'll see where it goes. What I will tell you right now, is while a lot of issues will come up, my job as governor is to bring everybody back together again. [...]

HOST: But what's your position on the issue?

HALEY: You know, right now, to start having policy conversations with the people of South Carolina, I understand that's what ya'll want, my job is to heal the people of this state. We had a 26 year-old that just graduated college. We had anywhere from a 26 year-old to an 87 year-old grandmother. You had a track coach. You had a librarian. This is very real to us. [...] There will be policy discussions and you will hear my come out and talk about it. But right now, I'm not doing that to the people of my state.

Haley did however appear to be willing to make one policy decision – calling on the suspect charged in the shooting to be executed.

The governor's lack of leadership is in stark contrast to one state west – Georgia. There, Governor Zell Miller (D) in 1992 called for changing the Georgia flag so it no longer reflected the Confederate symbol. “The Georgia flag is a last remaining vestige of days that are not only gone but also days that we have no right to be proud of,” he said at the time. “We need to lay the days of segregation to rest, to let bygones be bygones and rest our souls. We need to do what is right.” Although the flag was not changed until 2001, Miller's call 23 years ago shows that a governor even in a deep southern state can lead on the issue if they choose to.

Haley's avoidance of the issue of racism altogether eludes the elephant in the room. Compare her words to those of the Reverend Martin Luther King, Jr., who spoke after the 1963 Birmingham church bombing:

And yet they died nobly. They are the martyred heroines of a holy crusade for freedom and human dignity. And so this afternoon in a real sense they have something to say to each of us in their death. They have something to say to every minister of the gospel who has remained silent behind the safe security of stained-glass windows. They have something to say to every politician [Audience:] (Yeah) who has fed his constituents with the stale bread of hatred and the spoiled meat of racism. They have something to say to a federal government that has compromised with the undemocratic practices of southern Dixiecrats (Yeah) and the blatant hypocrisy of right-wing northern Republicans. (Speak) They have something to say to every Negro (Yeah) who has passively accepted the evil system of segregation and who has stood on the sidelines in a mighty struggle for justice. They say to each of us, black and white alike, that we must substitute courage for caution. They say to us that we must be concerned not merely about who murdered them, but about the system, the way of life, the philosophy which produced the murderers. Their death says to us that we must work passionately and unrelentingly for the realization of the American dream.

What Haley does not seem to be conceding is that to heal, you must first admit to your problem. Failing to address the legacy of racism in South Carolina will only conceal a wound, not ameliorate it.

Moral cowardice requires choice and action. It demands that its adherents repeatedly look away, that they favor the fanciful over the plain, myth over history, the dream over the real. Here is another choice.

Take down the flag. Take it down now.

Put it in a museum. Inscribe beneath it the years 1861-2015. Move forward. Abandon this charlatanism. Drive out this cult of death and chains. Save your lovely souls. Move forward. Do it now.

Dear Governor Haley,

I have never been politically active in my 63 years as a citizen of South Carolina, but I believe that it is now time to remove the Confederate battle flag from all government spaces. This would be a tangible, public pledge that we, as a society made up of different races in South Carolina, intend to live in peace and mutual respect with every member of this society.

Respectfully requested,

Celia [REDACTED]

I,m a true Southerner, but by the grace of God I love everyone no matter the gender are race. If others love the South as I, they shouldn't have a problem with this. The Governor needs to speak more strongly and directly against the pervasive racism that exists in South Carolina. To say businesses have not raised concerns about the Confederate Flag dismisses ALL THE MANY CITIZENS who have. It is divisive and needs to be removed NOW as a show of respect. I understand new legislation is being introduced to undo the compromise passed in 2000. She needs to support it. Also, action needs to be taken in passing a law against hate crimes in our state. Lastly, some additional safeguards regarding guns such as restrictions in carrying concealed weapons is needed. What a black eye for SC! Show some courage for God's sake!

As a former resident of the beautiful state of South Carolina, I am saddened by the mass shooting last night. It was a hate crime and unforgivable. Also unforgivable is that the confederate flag still stands - at full mast! - on the grounds of the state capitol. Please take down this sign of racism and hatred.

Please understand that the young man who callously shot the individuals at church was motivated by hate and showed his hate by use of symbols, including the Confederate flag. Healing is not easy. But being a Mom, a smart woman, a leader, you should be strong and retire the Confederate Flag. It will say so much more than any words you speak. Lead. Black lives matter.

Governor Haley,

I cannot imagine a more appropriate time to finally do the "right thing" and remove the Confederate flag from the capitol and any other state buildings, websites or correspondence. Doing so will send a message that you and the other legislators in this state who have expressed outrage and sorrow at the horrific acts of Dylann Roof also understand the offensive nature of that symbol of slavery and oppression to all citizens of this state - black and white.

The flag may be a part of the history of this state, but not a part that we are proud of - and certainly not one we should display in relationship to any facet of modern day state governance.

Put politics aside, listen to your conscience and get rid of the flag, please.

Linda P. [REDACTED]

First, this message is sent in love, not hatred or judgement. I our family is here in St. Louis, MO. We vacation in Charleston in the summer and during Christmas. My mother and Dad discovered Charleston while my father was stationed in Fort Benning, GA during the Korean War. A long time and a great deal of money of our family has been spent in your state. Mother and I are praying for the healing that you told the CBS Morning Show you are responsible for making happen. Our question is: How can there be healing with a flag flown proudly over your Capital that represents enslavement and racial hatred? Representing what Mr. Roof believed he needed to enforce. Flying the Confederate flag is a slap in the face to the families of those murdered. Please help us understand why we should continue to spend money in your state whilst the flag representing enslavement and racial disparity reminds the world what/why Mr. Roof murdered nine people.

Sincerely and with sorrow.

Governor Haley:

Like you, I am Indian, and stand in solidarity with all groups that are the victims of violent prejudice. I write to you in hope that you will reverse your stated support of the confederate flag displayed in the grounds of the state house in Columbia. The Charleston terrorist attack is evidence that anti-black racial hatred is thriving in your state, as in too much of the rest of the country, and your continued support for this symbol of racism would be unconscionable. Please stand unambiguously with your black constituents and against racism, and take down the confederate flag.

I realize that you've done some really dumb things as governor but if you really want to redeem yourself go to Home Depot and buy a Sawzall. Then take that tool to the flag pole on the Capital grounds with the press and cut it down! You don't have to wait for the legislature to do what's right. Stand up for all the people of South Carolina, not just the haters and bigots. Show American that you do know how to govern!

Dear Governor Haley,

I am South Asian American. I live in Washington, DC. I was outraged, saddened by the violence in Charleston. I hear you have defended the display of the Confederate flag, but as a symbol of the Confederacy, which killed and fought in order to keep black people enslaved, this is the time to take down the flag and replace it with a symbol of unity across colorlines and lines of any other kind of segregation of South Carolina residents. It is a symbol of racist ideology that thsi country no longer needs as a visible reminder of the hurts of racism. Please, black people have been targeted in this nation for hundreds of years, and still the cultural vestiges of that horror remain, as black people continue to die at the hands of gun violence, police brutality, and domestic terrorism.

As South Asians it is important for us to take a stand here. I hope you will join in this critical moment. You are a part of history and all eyes are on South Carolina right now. You have a chance to step into the greatness of civil rights heroes before us, who created a foundation upon which we as South Asians stand today, that legacy is what built the ladder upon which you could be Governor today. That is a stance against racism, your governorship says to people, we too belong as members of society in the United States. As an ode to that legacy, and as a stance of true justice, take down the flag.

That alone is not enough to deal with this brutality. But it is one symbolic step towards the true vision of democracy that our Founding Fathers attempted to hold. It is our job to make that democracy a reality for everyone.

Sincerely,

Anu [REDACTED]

I live in another state. I am from Texas where I lived for 70 years. There is too much hate and racial divide in this country. I am 77 years old and have lived through much of the civil rights problems. It is past time to come together. Take down the confederate flag! If you can do one thing to help our nation heal, that one thing is important.

Please do everything possible to remove the flag. The civil war is over! We need to get past this part of our history. I had many ancestors who fought for the south. I am not proud of what they did. I am proud of my Quaker ancestry.

Thank you,

Donna [REDACTED]

Dear Governor Haley,

As a resident of Charleston, SC, in the wake of the horrific murders at the Emmanuel AME Church this week, I strongly urge you to remove Confederate flag from the State Capitol grounds. While some may argue that this flag symbolizes "heritage" above all, this is simply not a valid reason to continue flying it above our state capitol.

Please consider this statement from Alexander Stephens in 1861, speaking about the foundation of the Confederacy: "Our new government is founded...upon the great truth that the negro is not equal to the white man; that slavery subordination to the superior race is his natural and normal condition. This, our new government, is the first, in the history of the world, based upon this great physical, philosophical, and moral truth."

I grew up in the South, and have chosen South Carolina as the place where I will settle and start my family. I cannot imagine raising my children in a place where the government--no matter how indirectly--supports the offensive "moral truth" as described above.

Again, I urge you to remove the Confederate Flag from the Capitol, so that our state and nation can move toward genuine equality and love, rather than continued division and hate.

As a U.S citizen I am utterly appalled at the lack of ethical intervenement after the massacre that occurred in your state. Dylan Roof embraced the Confederate flag and the ideologies of white supremacists. He violated the black community in an unspeakable way. By flying such a flag, you are continually reminding the African American residents of your state of the horrors their ancestors faced, and the challenges they continue to battle as a result. Therefore I urge you to take down the Confederate flag that flies above the Capitol building, as it is only appropriate and ethical after the act of terror that has occurred.

I see this morning you are still proudly flying the Confederate flag. There is only one conclusion to be drawn. You are not grieving like the rest of America, you are celebrating. I think Lincoln and the Union made a big mistake, they should have let you secede. Who the hell wants you to be in their country? Well, I am sure the Third Reich would have welcomed you since you both share a such devotion to Aryan superiority.

Be an example to other decent women and take this opportunity to take that Confederate flag down ( you know it symbolizes a horrible era in our history) and take a reasonable stand on gun control. Make the girls of this country proud to see a woman stand for something meaningful and Christian and right!! If you can't do that then you have no business being a leader.

I am beyond disgusted that you, Ms. Haley, have the AUDACITY to shed tears and behave as if you have sadness and compassion for the horrific tragedy that has unfolded. Am I implying that you are not sincere? You bet I am! If you had even one tiny shred of dignity, compassion, or grace that flag would be GONE. Actions speak louder than words Ms. Haley and yours drown out anything you could possibly say. In fact, the more you speak and the less you act, the more insulting you become.

Allow me to repeat myself. I am beyond disgusted by you and your lack of true and heartfelt action.

Please know that I am WHITE, as if that should even matter.

You are another weak American leader unable to stand for what's right. Watching you speak of the shootings I thought you were sincere. Then I heard you dodge the question of what should be done about the flag that is a symbol of hatred and the past oppression of a people and I realized those tears were just a performance for the camera. Shame on you for not standing for right and for the lives of your black citizens killed because of someone who was driven by the symbolism of the confederate flag. Shame, shame, shame on you. You are a disgrace to what it means to be a leader.

Hi,

I find it morally reprehensible, incomprehensible, and in the light of recent events, inhumane, that the Confederate flag still flies on the statehouse grounds in Columbia. I remember reading about this issue a number of years ago, and imagined that this blot on the state of South Carolina's image and reputation had been corrected. As a United States citizen, I am outraged that this image of hate and degradation is still allowed to freely fly on government property.

Sincerely,

Seth [REDACTED]

I'm an Indian American, and I am saddened and outraged by the shootings in Charleston.

I understand that you have defended the display of the Confederate flag on the grounds of the statehouse in Columbia.

Please take down the flag which is a symbol of racist ideology and actions targeting African American communities.

As an Indian American, I stand against racism and inequity. I hope you will too.

Governor Haley,

I, like many in our country, am deeply saddened and heartbroken about the recent events at Mother Emmanuel in Charleston. I cannot imagine what it must feel like in your role as governor, but I want you to know my thoughts are with you and your constituents. As a pastor, I am especially affected by the violation of sanctuary in the racist, terrorist actions of the young man who took the lives of nine of your state's community members. I am writing to urge you and your colleagues to take down the confederate flag which flies over the state house. I understand the history of South Carolina, but that flag is a reminder of oppression and slavery, a reminder to all the African American people in your community that there was a time when the state where they live wanted to keep them from being human--fought to keep them as slaves. I know the streets named after confederate generals in Charleston cannot be changed as swiftly, but I hope the movement toward change in your state can begin with the simple lowering of the flag which flies over the statehouse. Again, my prayers and tears are with your community. Now, it's time for us to get to work.

You are another weak American leader unable to stand for what's right. Watching you speak of the shootings I thought you were sincere. Then I heard you dodge the question of what should be done about the flag that is a symbol of hatred and the past oppression of a people and I realized those tears were just a performance for the camera. Shame on you for not standing for right and for the lives of your black citizens killed because of someone who was driven by the symbolism of the confederate flag. Shame, shame, shame on you. You are a disgrace to what it means to be a leader.

Be a leader and remove the flag of a hateful past. Its totally irresponsible to defend it any longer.

Lets not try to justify this raciest symbology with plausible rationalization any longer. To most people the distinction is loss.

Are you a leader? Then lead. The nation and world is watching this defining moment.

Or will SC be the ignition point of another civil conflict? Don't let history repeat itself.

Gov. Hailey. Very touching display of sadness on behalf of the 9 black folk gunned down by this racist murderer. Wouldn't it be a wonderful gesture on behalf of all the black folk in your state to drop the confederate flag and burn it! It represents hate and racism. I'm from the south, I love the south, but its time to move on and except this fact on behalf of all African Americans. The confederate flag represents pain and suffering to black folk.

Enough all ready!

Do something about it! Its time for change! The civil war is over!

Dear Governor Haley,

My heart goes out to the victims and their families in the latest terror/racist attack by one of our own citizens.

Also, do what is right. We are all Americans. Please take down the Confederate Flag. I am a white American, I do not live in your state, but the Confederate Flag is offensive to me and my family. When "Old Glory" is flying I sing the anthem, I place my hand over my heart, my significant other (a Viet Nam Vet and Purple Heart recipient) removes his hat in honor of "Old Glory". Our children were taught the same. We are one America! We respect the history of our country, but enough is enough. Please take down the Confederate Flag.

Thank you for your time.

Respectfully,

Teresa A. [REDACTED]

I'm a proud Republican, a gun-owner, a Christian, and someone who is glad you are in office. I simply want to BEG you to forever take the confederate flag off of all government grounds and buildings. The church shooting is tacitly approved by such things as this....racism is alive and well...blacks are second class...a past of slavery is celebrated...it's sickening.

PLEASE, as a symbol to your black population, say "enough is enough", and that this symbol of plantation mentality will be eradicated forever from government endorsement!! Let the toothless bigots that want to fly it on their own property do-so, and thereby celebrate and proudly announce their failures in the gene pool of decency.

God bless and thank you,
Damon [REDACTED]

In the wake of the Charleston shooting, we as a state must confront the hard truths about ourselves. Flying the confederate flag on the Statchouse grounds is an implicit and tacit approval of what that flag represents, racial oppression. Please do the right thing and take down the flag. If you really thing that it is a heritage/history marker, then put it in a museum explaining its origins, etc. It should not be flying.

I'm asking you to speak up to challenge South Carolina to consider what fuels racism in your community. What does your blatant disregard for civil rights progress by flying your confederate flag mean today? Of you really want to help those injured by this act of racism and hatred to heal, you would take down that blatant symbol of racism and replace it with the American flag which represents freedom for all our citizens. I pray that you will lead your people in the right direction by taking this visible step toward healing.
