Alumni Spotlight

Meet our Association President—Janet Williams

Alumni Year: 2005

How long have you lived in the Lowcountry? Since 1993

How has Leadership changed your participation in community events?

One of the reasons that I applied for Leadership is that I kept finding myself on committees and boards, where I was not sure that I was as informed as I should have been about our community. "Leadership" changed that in so many ways. First of all as you know there is a big difference between reading about something versus doing/ seeing/ hearing it for yourself... And as my friend and fellow alumni, Barbara Conway, has said "Hilton Head Island Bluffton Leadership is like taking a crash "Masters" course in "Hilton Head -Blufftonianism." Each class that I attended was so well thought out and packed with a parade of talented, informed, community leaders. That alone was not only an inspiration to me but also a valuable way to learn efficiently and effectively about the civic and service framework of our community in a very personal way. The experience has made me a stronger committee and board member because I came away from the "Leadership" experience even more motivated and better informed. I also graduated with like-minded peers (many of whom became friends along the way) that I felt I could and still can call on for support.

Significant accomplishments since participating in Leadership?

I toured CAPA's Open Arms/ Open Hearts Shelter (for abused children who have nowhere else to be) and was so overwhelmed that we even needed such a place in today's times (and even in our own beautiful paradise island) let alone that it was at capacity like all the time !!!! . I asked what they (CAPA) needed most to keep the shelter running and they asked me to help coordinate an adult spelling bee fundraiser on Hilton Head. With the help of fellow "Leadership" alumni, dear friends, and the Kiwanis Club of Hilton Head... we pulled it off successfully for two years in a row.

Additionally, I was honored to serve on several scholarship committees and what a great feeling it is to be able to help a person (adult or child) achieve his/her pursuit of knowledge and everything that comes along with that. You really feel like you are getting in on a "IPO" and are making a meaningful difference in a person's life and most of the time that person is a pretty amazing self-motivated individual.

Family, & other final thoughts...

Today skills acquired and fine tuned during my Leadership experience are helping me even in my own home where (with my husband Mark) we are daily shepherding a toddler, Anna Lynn and "pre-schooler", Luke. My twin sister, friend and colleague, Jennifer Stupica is also a Leadership graduate and current Regent for Hilton Head Island Bluffton Leadership. I am fortunate that my parents live in the area too.

The Leadership Class of 2012 is underway! The class has participated in the Program Introduction, Class Retreat and Education Program day. The Class of 2011 continued the tradition of providing the dinner and breakfast meals for the incoming class during the retreat weekend and made an outstanding show for future classes to try and out do! Dinner was exceptional and featured a large scrumptious pork loin. Duncan Teed from 2011 was the chef and he and his class were amazing. Class 2012 was really pleased with the meal. Regents in attendance were also excited. Grover Cleveland learned that there is a difference between a Pork Loin and a Pork Tenderloin. Members of the Class of 2011 also arrived early on Saturday morning and presented an excellent breakfast.

The newly established tradition of having the last class provide two meals is great. The new class seemed to enjoy talking with those who preceded them. Also, the enthusiasm of the recent graduates had caught the eye of the new class. We had a number of graduates drop by to try and name them all would most certainly result in missing someone, but a huge "Thank You" goes out to the Class of 2011 Board of Regent members plus Duncan Teed for their efforts in making this a great event.
