

From: Marion Edmonds <medmonds@scprt.com>
To:
Date: 8/3/2016 2:15:02 PM
Subject: Daily Press Clippings: Wednesday, August 03, 2016

Daily Press Clippings: Wednesday, August 03, 2016

How I go Columbia: SCPRRT's Kim Jamieson

<http://www.thestate.com/entertainment/local-events/article93468562.html>

The number of passengers boarding flights at Columbia Metropolitan Airport climbed more than 5% over the first half of this year

Charleston Regional Business Journal

A Myrtle Beach lifeguard company has been suspended over concerns about its certification

Myrtle Beach Sun News

Hardeeville chamber promotes sports tourism

<http://www.jaspersuntimes.com/sports/2016-08-03/chamber-promotes-sports-tourism>

Savannah River Site sculpture reviewed

Aiken Standard

Neighbors concerned proposed I-73 could hurt towns along current routes

<http://www.wbtv.com/story/32601815/neighbors-concerned-proposed-beach-interstate-could-hurt-towns-along-current-routes>

Work is set to start soon on a redevelopment project on the West Columbia riverfront

The State

Washington Post hails Charleston as "future of barbecue"

Post and Courier ; Washington Post

Yale University says it will revisit naming of Calhoun College

New York Times/AP

South Carolina has received another $400,000 to combat the spread of Zika after being awarded millions of dollars over the past month to fight the virus

Post and Courier

A swimmer having fun on an Edisto River tube float contracted the single-celled organism Naegleria fowleri, which occurs naturally and is common in warm bodies of freshwater

New York Times/AP ; Post and Courier

Family and friends remember Charleston chef who died after hit-and-run

Post and Courier

Marion Edmonds

medmonds@scprt.com