Re: Request to Review "Shadows Among Us: Recognizing and Breaking the Cycle of Narcissistic Control" by L.S. Corbin

Dear Governor Haley,

I appreciate this opportunity to submit to you a copy of "Shadows Among Us: Recognizing and Breaking the Cycle of Narcissistic Control", written and published by myself, earlier this year, for your review and use.

This book was written for many reasons, however; first and foremost was to find its way into the hands of those who needed its words. Recognizing that you are not alone in your suffering is the first step in ending a cycle of abuse that likely has continued throughout your life. Since its publication, I have given several copies away to friends or mere acquaintances and received outstanding positive feedback. It seems that those people who read the book, read it through their own experiences, and its words become their own. They become excited that they can give this book to someone else they know in a similar situation.

It is my goal that this book continue to work its "magic" through our society, no matter how large or small its impact may be on the reader(s). As a fellow South Carolinian, I would be thrilled for your Office (considering its tremendous impact on ending abuse in our society) to be part of this process. It is currently available for purchase on Amazon.com and Kindle, or I would be happy to donate several copies, if necessary.

I would greatly appreciate your time in reviewing this book and certainly welcome any comments or improvements.

Kindest regards,

Lori S Corbin
