Dear Governor Nikki Haley:

I am writing to encourage you to stop our state's compliance efforts surrounding President Obama's Clean Power Plan. The U.S. Supreme Court's recent and unprecedented stay order on the plan means that states are not forced to go ahead with compliance plans while the challenges to the rule are being litigated.

Money spent on compliance with the stay in place is money wasted. Putting the power plan on hold means we can spend state taxpayer dollars where they are most critically needed, like job creation, education and health care.

Our state resources, both manpower and budget, are limited and should not be spent on a deeply flawed plan that the Supreme Court has halted.

Please immediately put a stop to this waste of taxpayer dollars, and focus our limited resources where they are most needed.

Sincerely,

James Dickens
