Description/Significant Features:

The Warrenville Hut is located on the north side of Kay Waldrop Way. It is nestled in a stand of pine trees on the eastern part of the peninsula, across the road from the Edgefield Hut. Like its neighbor, it is a corrugated steel barrel-vault structure coated in spray foam insulation. The end wall material is unknown, as it is obscured by a coat of spray foam insulation. The hut sits on a concrete block foundation, evidenced by the foundation venting on each end. Each end wall has a centered single door accessed by concrete block steps and flanked by one-over-one vinyl windows.
