Bryan,

To follow-up, this evening we fielded a call from SNL Financial regarding the Consumers' Choice Health Insurance Company. Director Farmer spoke with the reporter.

We also received a call and I spoke with Matt Alba, WCBD-TV re. flood damaged autos. He was interested in telling consumers how to determine if a used vehicle available for purchase might have be a flood-damaged vehicle. I spoke with him re. some tips that he could provide and sent him our release, <http://doi.sc.gov/DocumentCenter/View/8560>.

Let me know if you have any questions and if I can be of further assistance. Have a good evening.

Sincerely,

Ann

Bryan and Chaney,

FYI re. the press release that we issued this morning concerning the Consumers' Choice Health Insurance Company agreeing to wind down its operations <http://doi.sc.gov/DocumentCenter/View/8562>, we are receiving calls and taking interviews from the press.

To date we have spoken with Bill Poovey at GSA Business and will be speaking with Liv Osby, Health Writer with The Greenville News. Later today or tomorrow morning we will be speaking with Tom Murphy of the AP.

Please let me know if I can provide any further information.

Thanks,

Ann
