Redefine Leadership: Shape the Future - See the Impact

Who Will Your Next Generation of Leaders Be?

CHROs are placing a high priority on programs to nurture rising stars. It makes sense – high-potentials (HIPOs) exert 21% more effort than non-HIPOs and have a 75% chance of succeeding at roles that are critical to business performance and the future leadership pipeline.

However, HIPO programs are failing to deliver much in the way of results, with 73% failing to show either business outcomes or ROI.

Download the article today to find out why investments in the brightest stars are not delivering stellar business results – and how you can redefine your future leader programs.

Did you know that only 27% of your leadership may be equipped for the future?
