Marcia Frimerman About 10 years ago I was in Cancun Mexico-The sea turtles lay their eggs on the beach, Lifeguards fence and date the laying of the eggs, the last night we were their the babies hatched, many adults and children where down at the beach with handfuls of babies taking them into the water, (we were all emotional yelling Swim Swim!

Lu Dodson Baby turtles need to walk to the ocean on their own no matter how painful it is to watch them struggle. the walk helps open their lungs and prepares them for the big swim...
