Catherine, call LLR and see if they don't have some sort of waiver they can issue. I can't believe that this person has gone 10 years (how old is this requirement?) without e-verifying. Please check into this further and see if LLR can help this man.

Subject: E-verify Citation and Probation ~ Website email from John Tinsley

Dear Lt Governor Bryant, I am attaching an email I received this morning and my response. I was unaware that this E-verify existed or that it was required. I pay ALL my payroll taxes to both the State and Federal gov't. I am being issued a citation and being placed on probation which is wrong. I have no problem complying with the law that I have just been made aware of, and will be happy to do it. I think a warning and a grace period to comply would be appropriate. I will probably lose contracts with Duke Energy over this which will cut me out of at least 50% of my business. I am not a crook, nor have I intentionally or willfully violated any laws. This is wrong and I need some help. Sincerely, John Tinsley
