at 22:22:09 on 10/29/2020 UTC

Page Reid Martine Mégevand Zimmer $562 and with taxes you can say $600 for less than 48 hours. It's a beautiful place and nice cabin but for $600 turn down service is a must.

Judy Whitt Neal Love the State Park cabins.

Shannon Reuter Everyone commenting on the price.. You're not just paying for a cabin. It sleeps 6, so it covers day use for 6 people as well. You're paying for location. You're not finding more than maybe a few vrbo or airbnb within 20-30 minutes of the park. Also, if you don't want to pay that much, don't. There are a LOT of people who can and will. 😊

Emilie Ellis Goldman I don't understand why you can't bring a pet to the SC State Park cabins and lodgings. Anyone renting a cabin and paying their prices would have pets that are clean, pest free, and well behaved. Other places charge a pet fee. How much can it cost to do whatever it is that they feel they have to do to "protect" the next occupants? The State Parks need the money.

Lynn Roberts Sonja Hughes what about all the maintenance fees that they add in the mountains which makes it higher then $79/ Night?

Sonja Hughes Lynn Roberts - I stay in private owned cabins and it's usually a flat nightly/weekly fee.
