I know we spoke about the Board of Nursing appointments a few weeks ago... I have not heard anything from the Medical Affairs committee or seen anything scheduled for the interim appointments to be confirmed. It's looking like they have no plans to confirm them.

As we've discussed, if the interim appointments are not confirmed by the time session is completely adjourned, the appointees are off the board and can no longer serve. Not confirming our appointments will put the board of Nursing at 3 members – they will not be able to hold a meeting. The earliest they could meet is if we had new appointees confirmed in January.

This is one of the most active boards at LLR. Can you help me figure something out?

Thanks,
Madison
