We are heartbroken to report, that due to recent torrential rains, the reopening of Hunting Island State Park has been delayed until Friday, June 2. The storms this week have caused flooding in the park and have delayed our final phases of recovery. We look forward to welcoming you on Friday, June 2. Check our website for more information: <http://bit.ly/Hlopen>

Joyce Taylor I believe this will continue to happen due to not having dunes.

at 15:59:50 on 5/25/2017 UTC

South Carolina State Parks Yes. The Nature Center will be open 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., daily.

at 16:00:45 on 5/25/2017 UTC

Fran Clarke Great news. How about the fishing pier there at the nature center. We are coming down Friday.

South Carolina State Parks You will not be able to enter the park to walk on the beach until the park reopens on Friday, June 2. The Nature Center is the only part of the park currently open. It is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., daily.

South Carolina State Parks A small part of the pier is open, but there is no fishing permitted.

at 18:18:53 on 5/25/2017 UTC

Lisa Sigler Morris We are headed there in August and the main reason for the condo we chose is the close proximity to the fishing pier. Surely, it will be open by then, right???

Joyce Taylor I don't think they are rebuilding it. Right now it only goes over the marsh area not to much water.

The pier was severely damaged by the storm.

Tami Denise I thought it flooded from the heavy amount of rainfall?

at 16:59:18 on 5/26/2017 UTC

Joyce Taylor I'm sure it did. They tide is a factor since there are no more dunes.

Joyce Taylor Right above my previous comment.

at 19:20:00 on 5/26/2017 UTC
