South Carolina State Parks

at 20:00:53 on 12/17/2020 UTC

This past spring a 170 year-old hickory tree came down during a storm at Rose Hill Plantation. We have partnered with @Turned and Burned out of Woodruff, SC to create some "art" from this tree so that it may live on! These products are being sold exclusively in our Rose Hill park store. Interpretively, we refer to these old trees as "witness trees," because they have witnessed so much of this plantation's history. One of the oldest known hickory trees in the grove where that hickory came from dated to 1797 and others have dated to the 1810s. That makes this hickory a younger relative to them, but still a piece of history. Check out this video as Turned and Burned shows how they create these beautiful works of art! For info on purchasing, contact Rose Hill Plantation: <https://southcarolinaparks.com/rose-hill>

Turned & Burned - Making Art from a Fallen Tree at Rose Hill

Jason Hart Y'all have to excuse the messy shop. I guess we could have cleaned it up for the video, huh?

Kim Morris Hopkins Jason Hart - Beautiful!! Do you do work outside of using their tree? Website? Love your vision.

at 20:32:55 on 12/17/2020 UTC

Daniel Thomasson I'd love a slice of that tree! Love to see 170 rings!

at 20:35:32 on 12/17/2020 UTC

Daylene Pitts Jason Hart I never noticed... too busy in awe of your work ♥

Jason Hart Kim Morris Hopkins our website is www.Turnedandburned.com but the online store has very little left due to local demand being a little more than we anticipated. A good problem to have! If you are local to upstate SC, feel free to come by our new little gallery on site at our shop! Check out our Facebook page as well Turned and Burned Thanks!

at 20:51:43 on 12/17/2020 UTC

Jason Hart Daniel Thomasson this was the youngest of the three. We still have one to get that was dated to 1790 so 230 rings!
