TETERBORO, N.J. (AP) — Republican presidential nominee Donald Trump, who has slipped in the polls in recent weeks, is shaking up his campaign again. The billionaire real estate mogul is bringing in Stephen Bannon of Breitbart News as executive officer and promoting pollster Kellyanne Conway to campaign manager.

Clinton's August fundraising spree: From Scranton to Cher

WASHINGTON (AP) — Scranton isn't a standard stop on the Democratic fundraising circuit. Yet Hillary Clinton put the Pennsylvania town on her itinerary — several times. The Democratic presidential nominee and her family have made multiple visits to Scranton donors since launching her campaign last August, raising millions of dollars in a former industrial town known for needing economic aid rather than giving it out.

WHY IT MATTERS: Opioid epidemic

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — THE ISSUE: More Americans are dying from opioids than at any time in recent history, with deaths hitting a peak of 28,000 in 2014. That amounts to 78 Americans dying from an opioid overdose every day, according to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention. The CDC uses opioid as an umbrella term for synthetic painkillers derived naturally from opium (known more specifically as opiates), such as heroin.
