Subject: RE: Hi Chaney - comment on Guantanamo bill?

---

Here you go Vera.

Governor Nikki Haley today released the following statement after the House vote:

"Moving terrorists from a secure facility outside of the United States to Charleston or releasing them back onto the battlefield is a risk the people of South Carolina aren't willing to take. Protecting the people of South Carolina is my highest priority, and we thank the U.S. House - and in particular Congressman Mark Sanford, Congressman Joe Wilson, Congressman Jeff Duncan, Congressman Trey Gowdy, Congressman Mick Mulvaney and Congressman Tom Rice - for working with us on what is a critical national security issue."

Hi Chaney,

Sending on personal email because our work Gmail is down - Could I have a comment from Gov. Haley about the bill that was passed in the House today to prohibit any transfers of detainees from Guantanamo.

This bill would stop any transfer for the remainder of Obama's term. It was cosponsored by SC Reps Wilson, Duncan and Sanford.

I know this has been important for her/I covered her when she came to DC to speak on it since Charleston's brig was one of the scouted sites.

Thanks!
