Subject: Danielle Howle

Hi,

Here is some information on Danielle Howle.

I've checked her availability and she is open. I have not shared with her what the event is in case we go in a different direction.

I would see her singing one beautiful song.

Danielle Howle

Considered by many to be South Carolina's best kept musical secret, Danielle Howle is a punk rock girl with the voice of a honkeytonk angel. Opening for such diverse acts as Bob Dylan, Ani Difrancio, Fugazi, and Indigo Girls, she has garnered worldwide acclaim while somehow remaining under the radar of mainstream America. Now is the time for South Carolina to share it's secret with the rest of America.

Danielle Howle Opening for diverse acts : Bob Dylan, Fugazi, Ani Difrancio, Indigo Girls, Shellac, Hootie and The Blowfish, Darius Rucker, Patterson Hood, The Melvins, Squirrel Nut Zippers, Sarah McLaughlin, The Avett Brothers, Elliot Smith, Junior Brown, Howle has carved a D.I.Y. Approach bringing folk, jazz, country and rock genres together to this day. A 25 year touring veteran with 13 full-length albums in her catalog, she now tours with Danielle Howle + Firework Show and is "artist In Residence" at Awendaw Green. @awendawgreen.com Howle has done guest lectures on songwriting and creativity at :Yale, Brown, Penn State, Columbia College, USC, UGA, and College of Charleston. Howle enjoys teaching young people about songwriting at various summer camps in the Charleston area. She is currently Co-producing a short film called Parallel Chords, by director and esteemed classical violinist Catherin Dudley – Rose. The film will be scored jointly with Rose and Howle in November of this year.
