Good morning - I have a reservation at Colleton State park for next weekend (Oct 21) and your site says that reservations through today have been canceled, and that the park is closed until further notice, and that I should call for more information. The gentleman on the phone referred me back to the website for updates. Can you tell me if the park will be open next weekend?

We do not have an exact opening date for Colleton. Crews are in the park working on it and cleaning up debris. We will post more information to our website as soon as we have it: <http://bit.ly/2e6gXJY> We hope to have more information on Colleton really soon! Thanks for your patience and understanding.
