Subject: Webinar: The Ever-Changing Role of Government Websites

Hi Tony

With government websites fast becoming more platform-like in how citizens use them and how governments are creating them, the idea of using a website to engage citizens needs to be rethought.

With that in mind, I invite you to join me on Granicus' next webinar, The Ever-Changing Role of Government Websites.

I'll be joined by Scott Nelson, Webmaster for the City of Santa Barbara, Calif., to discuss how governments can utilize their websites to meet the demands of changing citizen expectations, resulting in happier constituents and staff alike. We'll also offer a demo of Granicus' newest offering, CivicaCMS!

Hope you can make it!
