2015 HCBS Conference Recap: Materials are Now Available!

The 2015 HCBS Conference was a great success! This year, the conference had the highest number of attendees with plenty of workshops where lots of stimulating dialogue occurred. The conference featured many interesting plenary sessions with speakers including Assistant Secretary Kathy Greenlee and innovation extraordinaire, Josh Linkner. Attendees danced the night away at a reception celebrating the anniversaries of Social Security, Medicare, and Medicaid. NASUAD is grateful to everyone, including all of our sponsors.

The presentations are now online! They are also available in the HCBS conference app. Simply select the session you are interested in (from the agenda button) and you will find the PDF file loaded after the session description. If you do not see a PowerPoint presentation listed, it is because a copy of that presentation was not shared with NASUAD Staff. We will be working on collecting the missing presentations. Thank you for your understanding! Please note that the transcripts from the plenary sessions will be available next week.

NASUAD Published Updated State Medicaid Integration Tracker

NASUAD has published the September 2015 Edition of the State Medicaid Integration Tracker. The State Medicaid Integration Tracker is a monthly report summarizing state actions in Managed Long Term Services and Supports (MLTSS), as well as State Demonstrations to Integrate Care for Dual Eligible Individuals and other Medicare-Medicaid Coordination Initiatives.

The Tracker also includes updates on state participation in other LTSS activities, including: the Balancing Incentive Program; Medicaid State Plan Amendments under 1915(i); Community First Choice Option under 1915(k); and Medicaid Health Homes.

Iowa Governor's Conference on Aging & Disabilities: Call for Sessions

The Iowa Governor's Conference on Aging & Disabilities in May 2016 will shine a regional and national spotlight on the steps Iowa is taking to meet the challenges and embrace the opportunities that accompany the ever-changing aging and disability communities.

The conference is being hosted by the Iowa Department on Aging and the Iowa Developmental Disabilities Council, in partnership with the National Association of States United for Aging and Disabilities, and directed by a steering committee made up of Iowa business and community leaders and chaired by Lt. Governor Reynolds. The conference theme - "Disruptive Innovations" - focuses on the myriad ways Iowa's aging and disability communities are evolving: culturally, economically, socially, technologically, etc.

To engage professionals, policymakers, students and subject-matter experts in a thoughtful dialogue about re-imagining the aging and disability networks for Iowa and the entire Midwest, the conference invites you to submit a presentation for this year's conference.

I&R Center Webinar This Tuesday: Texas' No Wrong Door System of Access

The National I&R Support Center will host a webinar on the Texas experience with building a "no wrong door" system of access. The webinar is scheduled for Tuesday, September 15, 2015, from 3:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m. ET.

Strong partnerships between Texas Aging and Disability Resource Centers (ADRC) and 211 Area Information Centers are essential to providing a true "no wrong door" system of access. Join this webinar to learn about the Texas experience enhancing streamlined, person-centered information and referral services with respect to the Texas Balancing Incentive Program grant. State level and local ADRC and 211 network partners will highlight state-level initiatives and successful "best practice" models for outreach and referral management. Presenters are Leigh Schroeder, Manager, Program Business Operations, Strategic Operations and Grants, Texas Department of Aging and Disability Services; Beth Noah, ADRC Coordinator, Aging and Disability Resource Center of Tarrant County; and Vicki Mize, 2-1-1 Director, United Way of Tarrant County. This presentation was first given at the 2015 AIRS conference.

No pre-registration is required to participate in the webinar.

50 State Survey of Dementia Training Requirements

Justice in Aging, in collaboration with the Alzheimer's Association, released a new survey of dementia training requirements in each state. The number of Alzheimer's and other dementia diagnoses is on the rise, but there is often little to no training for staff and professionals that work with these populations. This survey revealed gaping holes in state law and offers promising practices to inform improvements and changes for the future. The findings from the survey are available in a five-paper series.

From the Administration

Administration for Community Living

Dementia Webinar Series

The Administration for Community Living (ACL), the National Institute on Aging (NIA), and the National Institute on Health (NIH) are partnering to sponsor the 4th annual webinar series on Dementia Resources & Research. Their goals are to inform the Aging, Public Health, and Dementia Research networks about federal resources to help people with dementia and their family caregivers, improve coordination of the federal resources available to them, and to encourage awareness of dementia research participation opportunities. The webinar series is free and is now open for registration. There are free continuing education credits (CEUs) available for the series. The first webinar of the series is on Wednesday, September 22, 2015, from 2:00 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. ET. The presenters include Ruth Drew, MS, Director of Family and Information Services, Alzheimer's Association; Jennifer Watson, MA, Senior Public Affairs Specialist, NIA; and Amy Wiatr-Rodriguez, MSW, Aging

Services Program Specialist, ACL.

Department of Health and Human Services

Nondiscrimination in Health Programs & Activities Proposed Rule

On September 8th, the Department for Health and Human Services released a proposed rule to implement protections against sex discrimination and enhance language assistance that protects individuals with disabilities that have limited English proficiency. The rule aims to decrease discrimination against vulnerable populations in part by increasing requirements for effective communication with individuals with disabilities and offering protections against discrimination based on an individual's gender identity. Specifically for individuals with disabilities, the rule states requirements for the provision of auxiliary aids and services, such as alternative formats, sign language interpreters, and the accessibility of programs offered through electronic and information technology. The proposed rule has been published in the Federal Register with a 60-day comment period. All comments must be received by 5 p.m. ET on Friday, November 6, 2015.

Social Security Administration

New National, State, and Congressional District Data

The Social Security Administration published updated state SSDI fact sheets with national, state, and congressional district data. The data is provided by state and Congressional district on how many workers with disabilities, their children and spouses receive

Social Security Disability Insurance (SSDI); the average annual SSDI benefit in relation to the poverty threshold; and the total annual benefits for all SSDI beneficiaries. This valuable data is available for each state and regional areas.

Ohio: Ten Million Steps to Prevent Falls

National Falls Awareness Day is September 23 this year. To celebrate, the Ohio Department of Aging, through their Steady U Ohio initiative, is raising awareness with their "10 Million Steps to Prevent Falls" campaign. This campaign aims to get older Ohioans to take 10 million steps during the month of September, while also teaching elders about the things they can do to minimize the risk of falling. Research shows that walking 15-30 minutes each day prevents the risk of falls because it strengthens muscles and increases stamina. If you want to participate you can walk with older adults and post selfies on social media using the hashtags #PreventFalls, #10MStepsOH, and #MileinTheirShoes. Additionally, visit the SteadyU website for more information about participating in the initiative and for falls prevention tips and resources.
