CS - I will not be in the chamber tomorrow. I told Chip you would be - as a resource if needed. They most likely won't vote on the bill tomorrow but if you could be up there and/or Ted that would be helpful - for Chip and all others that Senators who walk out and need guidance etc. I will email you and Ted Campsen's contact just in case.
Thanks, Veldran

NAEP data is from the primary source – the National Center for Education Statistics, U.S. Department of Education. Pulled using the NAEP Data Explorer:

The coding of the states is from a 2012 report published by the Council of State Governments.

Sen. Matthews wants to know the source of the data on the NAEP scores.

Senator,

Below is information from CS.

Thanks, KV

Sen. Matthews' line of questioning yesterday got me wondering...how do test scores compare in states with a constitutional requirement to elect the Superintendent vs. states where the Governor appoints and the Senate confirms the Superintendent?

I just ran the numbers...turns out they do better in all 4 major categories (4th and 8th grade reading and math) in states where the position is appointed.
