Governor Haley,

It was at one time a plus to be a Christian business owner and volunteer for various organizations. Now, through a reverse of situations, it is deemed a discredit. Since when is it a discredit to worship the one true God and live according to scriptural principals? As small groups that live outside of the very values this great nation was founded on, as well as biblical principals, force their non-beliefs on a nation to accommodate their own warped life styles, this nation will continue to deteriorate into a dog-eat-dog society where nothing good can exist. It is past time for our law-makers to say enough is enough. To quit singling out a people whose only fault is worshipping God. Stand up for what is right and just say no to those who seek to destroy any values left in our society and those who live by those values. Debi Stokes
