Dean Governor Nikki Haley,

RECEIVED

AUG 12 2014

I have a interest in writing literature
for a living, mostly short stories.

I've been wanting to attend college to study English.

I'd like a Master's degree in English with the hopes of being able to write short stories.

I'd like for my work to be good enough for Elementary, High School and College

textbook writing.

Do you have grant funded income available for someone like myself who's interested in writing

for money?

I also would like to address. What is grant proposed writing? How may I write to propose a topic of interest to my local congressional leader. Can I ask for funds to study a particular interest? For example:

If I like to study farm life or plant life and it's growth development and how they produce well indoors or outdoors, shade or light.

Could I be given grant money to study a specific topic? Do you have a book you could send to me about "How to write for grant funded income" and sample letters? Or a book I could use for reference. I was not able to find the appropriate material to read. Do you have any information that could be sent to me such as books, I could read that could be shipped to my address?

Miss. Tiombe Gillespie, 307 Miller Rd, Maublen NC, 29102

Sincerely,
Miss. Tiombe Gillespie
