

State of South Carolina

Governor's Proclamation

- WHEREAS, teen pregnancies have far-reaching consequences that adversely affect the health, education, and economic future of our young people; and
- WHEREAS, in 2013, 4,759 girls between the ages of 15 and 19 gave birth in South Carolina; and
- WHEREAS, since 1992, there has been a 54 percent decline in the teen birth rate in our state; and
- WHEREAS, teen birth rates in South Carolina decreased by 13 percent between 2012 and 2013, resulting in the lowest teen birth rate in recorded history; and
- WHEREAS, the progress South Carolina has made in reducing the incidence of teen childbearing saves taxpayers millions of dollars each year; and
- WHEREAS, Teen Pregnancy Prevention Month is an opportunity for parents, teens, educators, program providers, faith based organizations, local elected leaders, and state policymakers to join together to decrease teen pregnancy in South Carolina.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Nikki R. Haley, Governor of the great State of South Carolina, do hereby proclaim May 2015 as throughout the state and encourage all South Carolinians to work together to reduce and prevent teen pregnancy for the future success of our young people.
