What are your thoughts on this for the PSA? There would be two graphics: One with the list of tips and one with the list of SCDMV offices.

Hello...My name is Kevin Bryant and I am proud to serve as your Lieutenant Governor.

The 2017 Atlantic hurricane season has officially begun. With June marking the beginning... forecasters have already predicted an "above average" hurricane season should be expected this year. With a potential for 5 to 9 hurricanes and 2 to 4 major hurricanes...it is important for you to adequately prepare.

In the case of a hurricane...remember these tips:

- Watch or listen for Emergency Alerts
- Hide from Wind and Run from Water
- Know your Evacuation Routes and Lane Reversals
- Please heed all Evacuation Warnings and Instructions

For all this information and more....pick up the 2017 South Carolina Hurricane Guide at any Walgreens store statewide. It is also available at all South Carolina Welcome Centers... and at these SCDMV offices. You can also find this information at SCEMD.org.

Remember....preparation CAN save lives. To all South Carolinians...please be safe this hurricane season.

The below e-mail went out to the regions this morning. Additionally, we do have a brochure similar to the one attached.

Good morning, everyone.

Today (June 1) marks the start of the 2017 Atlantic hurricane season. Forecasters have already predicted that an "above average" hurricane season should be expected this year, with a potential for 5-9 hurricanes and 2-4 major hurricanes.

Please take this opportunity to review your emergency plans and start having discussions with staff and providers as to what should be done during an emergency situation, especially regarding meals. This may also be a good time to touch base with your county emergency management agencies.

Additionally, the 2017 South Carolina Hurricane Guide will be available at all South Carolina Welcome Centers, at any Walgreens store statewide, and at SCDMV offices in Bamberg, Beaufort, Bluffton, Charleston, Conway, Dillon, Florence, Georgetown, Kingstree, Ladson, Lake City, Little River, Mullins, Moncks Corner, Mount Pleasant, Myrtle Beach, North Charleston, Saint George, and Varnville.

Sounds good to me. Does the office on Aging have information they already send out or a guideline/ checklist we can go off of? Also would Hank want to put together a script or should I?
