

No Tears In Heaven was inspired by a young boy, Luke Gribick, a traumatic brain injury survivor. Children's Hospital and The Brain Injury Association of South Carolina have served an important role in Luke's recovery; presented in video on No Tears In Heaven.

Read about Luke's visit with the Governor of South Carolina, an honorable and joyful person who has a sincere desire to serve others: Nikki Haley. A link to the Governor's book, "Can't Is Not an Option" - a story of courage, compassion and conviction, is also provided at the dedicated link: "Luke Visits Governor Haley."

No Tears In Heaven also includes 53 other stories that "God knows and cares for every challenge, circumstance or crisis a family or individual may encounter."

Governor Nikki Haley
Office of the Governor

Columbia, SC 29201

Dear Governor Haley,

In times when leadership is necessary the weight of the moment may wear heavy on the heart.

Unkind words may challenge the spirit but in the moment of making a decision for what is right; while those who rest their conversation in maledictory rhetoric be confident there is never a wrong decision when it is confirmed in the truth.

For encouragement please find our first ministry CD "I AM the WAY." I'm not sure if we previously sent you "I AM the WAY." If we did the CD may be given to someone you feel needs encouragement during this time of healing.

Lord willing our first full cd, tentatively entitled, Journey of Faith will be released next spring. Luke will be participating on some of the recordings.

Keeping your family and administration in prayer, always confident the grace and mercy of the Lord shall prevail, wrapped in His holy Word – Philippians 4:13.

Sincerely

Cliff Gribick

Dear Jamal,

Could you please see that Governor Haley receives the enclosed letter of encouragement and our ministry CD.?

If you need to preview the letter, for security reasons, permission is given to open the letter.

Oh by the way I tried to friend you on Facebook and never received a response. Not to worry I consider you a friend.

Sincerely
