Dear Director Keck:

As you know, DHHS eliminated emergency adult dental services recently. Since that time, oral and maxillofacial surgeons (OMS) have had no method for billing medical procedures (CPT code procedures not CDT codes) for adults being treated for injuries or infections. Ear, Nose and Throat (ENT) and Plastic surgery physicians can provide the services and be paid but if it is an OMS that provides the service, they will not be paid because it is denied as a non-covered adult dental service.

These procedures are things like fracture repair, neck abscess incision and drainage, complex laceration repair and other similar procedures that OMS's are often called upon to treat as part of hospital call responsibilities. These services are highly valued by physician colleagues who often must call upon OMS physicians to consult and or assist on these very cases when they have to admit the patient. It only seems fair that they be compensated in the same manner for providing the same services.

The SCDA wants to stress that we are not asking for the addition of new codes or procedures, but simply that a means of filing for reimbursement for these already covered codes be allowed by Oral and Maxillofacial Surgeons. This will not increase costs to Medicaid as they would be paying the same amount to a treating physician anyway.

Allowing OMS's to bill directly to Medical will avoid the problems, additional costs and confusion that is occurring when a Medicaid covered adult presents to the emergency room with a problem easily handled by an OMS, but is instead having to be shifted to an ENT or Plastic Surgeon due to this reimbursement discrepancy.

Thank you for your help in this matter. Please feel free to call if I can be of assistance.

Sincerely,

Phil Latham

SCDA Executive Director
