

Dear Governor Nikki Haley,

My name is Emily Campbell. I am a high school student in Irmo, South Carolina. In January 2016, I will be traveling with my mother and younger sister to Haiti for a mission trip. I am writing you asking for financial support. This trip will cost $3,000 for all of us. I have a little less than 20 days to come up with $2,500 dollars that is left for us to rise. I have sent out letters to friends and family, held bake sales and so far have gotten about $500 from those activities. I hope to hear from more people I sent letters to but am hoping that you will be able to help also!

While in Haiti we will be encouraging orphans, passing out food to the people in need, and coming along side of churches there who need support. I have gone on 4 trips to date and have built so many relationships with people there that I consider Haiti my second home. I have met people who have changed my life forever. I have seen true poverty and photographed pure joy all in the span of five minutes because even in their poverty the people of Haiti have the greatest joy I've ever come across.

Any financial amount would be thankfully received. I have enclosed a check payment slip that you can fill out, or if you would rather, you can visit <http://nwHCM.org/give/travel-payment> and follow the link to the payment page. You will need to include my name, Emily Campbell, and my trip date, January 1st-10th, in the notes box.

Sincerely,

Emily Campbell

Response Card: Please return to 13 Dunlieth Court, Irmo, SC 29063 with a check made out to Northwest Haiti Christian Mission.

We want to partner with Northwest Haiti Christian Mission to provide hope for Haiti and are sending our gift of $_____. We prefer this gift be used to support the short-term trip of _____.

We understand that the use of our gift is subject to the discretion and control of the mission. Donor(s): _____ Address: _____

_____, City, State, Zip: _____