

*The gladness of the holidays is hope!
Wishing you and yours the very best,*

Go to spartanburg7.org to learn more about the 2014 Gallup Student Poll and the great things taking place in District Seven.

Research shows that human elements like hope, engagement and well-being are strong predictors for student success, both in school and beyond.

To give voice to our students' perspectives, we asked 3200 children in grades 5-12 about their hopes and dreams, their engagement in school and their emotional and physical well-being. With the findings in hand we will foster new conversations that further support our schools and shape broader community efforts for student success.
