

SHE'S DEAF-BLIND AND HOLDS THE WORLD IN HER HANDS

JUST LIKE HER LOVED ONES

In an increasingly digital world, the Helen Keller National Center is working with deaf-blind individuals to stay connected to their friends, family, peers, and the world around them. Through the National Deaf-Blind Equipment Distribution Program, HKNC is ensuring that qualified individuals with a combined hearing and vision loss have access to groundbreaking telecommunication devices and the necessary training to use them.
