It just depends. We will begin heavy promotion of the new contest in the next week or so and numbers should jump! Thanks.

The Fall Photo Contest gallery doesn't seem to be working.

The photos do not appear in the gallery until they are approved. There is a vetting process so that inappropriate photos cannot be submitted and published to the gallery. We will approve photos soon and they will post to the gallery at that point.

Saw them last night. I thought there would already be more entered, but I guess most wait until later.
