

From: SC Policy Council <info=scpolicycouncil.com@mail167.atl61.mcsv.net>
To: Veldran, KatherineKatherineVeldran@gov.sc.gov
Date: 6/11/2016 7:02:32 AM
Subject: Bills that could still pass | Lawmakers & their contracts | More penny tax mess

Is this email not displaying correctly?
View it in your browser.

Friend on Facebook

Follow on Twitter

Forward to a Friend

Lawmaker-Contractors?

The highest concentration of South Carolina businessmen with ongoing government contracts would seem to be the South Carolina State House. read more>>

In Hartsville Later Today?

If you're in Hartsville today (Saturday), come by the Burry Bookstore at 3:00 when SCPC's Ashley Landess will join author John Crangle to talk about corruption at the State House.

Some Bills Still Ready to Pass

"We have two ethics reforms bills that we have worked hard for four years. They are both in conference committee. We were promised by both the House and the Senate that they would not leave until they gave us those bills, I'm going to hold them at their word."

The words, obviously, are Gov. Nikki Haley's. We briefly explain both bills here. And here are a few others that could go to her desk next week.

Officials Dispute Nerve Claim on Biz Licenses

The county code says every business that does work within the county boundaries requires a license. But when it comes to businesses backed with tax dollars, some officials want an exemption. read more>>

Send More Stories

The Nerve has a six-year tradition of publishing stories and comments by South Carolinians about their local and state governments. Like this one, about a reader who wondered why he had to pay the city $25 for the privilege of installing a fire alarm. Have a story? Let us hear it at news@thenerve.org.

Visit us on the web at scpolycouncil.org

Our coordinates:

South Carolina Policy Council
1323 Pendleton Street
Columbia, South Carolina 29201
803 779 5022 (phone)
803 779 4953 (fax)

unsubscribe from this list update subscription preferences