Friends,

Thanks to a friend for the enclosed. This is far from over, and I pray it becomes the tipping point for the American people to realize how corrupted our government is.

Subject: FBI moves to the dark side

Based upon what has become public knowledge it appears that FBI Director James Comey is lying in his teeth to the American public. One of the few remaining Obama officials who had at least some facade of integrity he has clearly gone to the dark side. One of the first allegations he made in his statement, announcing he was not going to recommend prosecution, was that he told no one of his decision not to recommend prosecution. Ray Charles would know that was a flat out lie since there were repeated reports over the recent past from very informed sources that Clinton was not going to be charged. His rationale for not recommending charges be filed does not hold up to the law or any unbiased analysis by anyone familiar with Federal criminal law. A first year law student can easily see that his actual statements about what the investigation found established clear and convincing proof of the violation of a multiple of crimes being committed, several of which do not even require intent, including the deliberate obstruction of justice by the purging of Emails under Clinton's specific direction. Comey's refusal to take a single question on his unbelievable decision, which is the first time ever at a press conference in his entire tenure as Director, makes it clear he knew the decision was not justifiable.

Additionally, anyone guilty of the gross negligence of Clinton and her complicit accomplices when dealing with classified matters would normally have their security clearances revoked and never get another one. However the slimy State Department spokesman Admiral Kirby (known to be a professional liar) refused to answer whether the security clearances of Clinton or the others involved would even be reviewed, much less revoked.

The antics of Attorney General Lynch and Bill Clinton's recent attempted secret meeting make it clear hanky panky was definitely at play. This and Comey's actions illustrate to anyone with an IQ higher than a turnip that that the political fix was obviously in on this whole so-called "investigation" and it is clear that the whole system is rigged! Shame on Comey, the State Department, Attorney General Lynch and shame on our entire criminal justice system which no longer can be depended upon to provide any justice! It is clear that the Clinton's are incapable of either shame or integrity.
