Dear Members and Friends,

Sometimes, there is good news to report!

In June, 2014, my brother Don and I traveled to Harrisburg to testify before the State Government Committee in support of House Bill 1507 -- popularly known as Paycheck Protection -- a law which would force local unions to collect their own dues from members rather than rely on the state of Pennsylvania to do so.

We were invited to testify on the bill's behalf due to the violent attack we endured at the hands of Teamster Union thugs in 1998.

PA Senate Passes Paycheck Protection

Thankfully, two days ago, the PA Senate voted 26-23 to pass Paycheck Protection. All but four Republican Senators voted in favor of the bill. And you guessed it. All four "R's" who voted "no" hail from our region of the state.

If you are represented by Senators Tommy Tomlinson (R-Bucks), Stewart Greenleaf (R-Bucks, Montco), Bob Mensch (R-Montco), or John Rafferty (R-Montco), please admonish them for their "no" vote on Paycheck Protection. If you are represented by Senator Chuck McIlhinney (R-Bucks), please admonish him for his "absent" vote on this critical issue.

Conversely, please congratulate Senator Scott Wagner (R-Adams) for his leadership in passing Paycheck Protection. Also, Senators Dave Argall (R-Schuylkill) and Dominic Pileggi (R-Delaware) deserve special recognition for their support of the measure.

The bill will now moves to the Pennsylvania House for further consideration.

Obama Smackdown on Immigration -- More Good News

An October 14, 2015 front page New York Times article, written by Michael D. Shear and Julia Preston, laments the fact that President Obama's Executive Orders granting four million "undocumented workers" the right "to live and work" in the USA without fear of being deported "will almost certainly not happen for the vast majority of them."

The Times correctly places the blame on a lawsuit filed by Texas and 25 additional states that seeks to prevent the President from abusing his executive order privilege to enact a policy in which he failed to attain Congressional approval. (Interestingly enough, in the article, The Times reporters refer to Obama's executive "orders" as executive "actions.")

Of course, we first reported this story to you in February, 2015, when Federal District Court Judge Andrew S. Hanen ordered an injunction barring the Obama Administration from carrying out the President's immigration fiat.

Judge Hanen's injunction has remained in effect while a three judge panel from the US Court of Appeals for the 5th Circuit, considers the case.

Rubio Visits Montgomery County; Clinton Fundraises in Philly

The Republican Committee of Chester County hosted presidential candidate Marco Rubio at their Fall Dinner, last night, in King of Prussia. At the same time, Bill Clinton stumped for "Mrs. Clinton" at the Mutter Museum in Center City. For a full report, click the following link:

Trump v. Rubio on Eminent Domain

As each day passes, the candidates reveal more and more about their true nature and character.

While we know Donald Trump has used eminent domain, in the past, for his own financial gain, we were still a little surprised that he called it "a wonderful thing" in a recent Fox News interview with Bret Baier.

Marco Rubio reacted rather quickly to Trump's assertion -- rightfully reminding the Donald that private property rights are sacrosanct in a free republic such as the United States:

In an interview earlier, today, Trump blamed George W. Bush for the 911 attacks on our nation. We look forward to Rubio's prompt reply as we prepare our own.

It seems that Trump and Rubio are destined for an all out battle -- one we think the Donald could lose.

Consider a recent October YouGov national survey pitting Trump against the two Floridian presidential candidates:
