BACKGROUND:

The conference theme will be “Public Works After the Storm” and will focus on the Public Works response to the flooding in SC last summer. The general theme of the conference is professional development for Public Works Professionals and Public Service. Public Works employees of all levels have been up front and center in the flood response, from the first days of assisting with debris management and street closures to ongoing repairs now. The storm and its aftermath will be a key part of the Annual Conference, both in terms of theme and education sessions. They would like to hear about the flood from the Governor’s perspective and also recognize and thank the Governor for her work. They plan to make a donation to the One SC fund as a special way to recognize the Governor’s attendance.

TALKING POINTS:

The Governor may speak on the topic of her choice, but the conference theme will be “Public Works After the Storm” and will focus on the Public Works response to the flooding in SC last summer. The general theme of the conference is professional development for Public Works Professionals and Public Service.
