Hello,

My name is Julia Jacobs and I'm a political reporter for Medill News Service in Washington, D.C. I'm heading down to South Carolina to cover the GOP primary later this month, and I'm writing a story about the changing politics of young people in the state. I'm emailing to see if it would be possible to speak to the governor about young conservatives in South Carolina and her influence on the demographic. I will be in the state from Feb. 16-20 and would love to interview Gov. Haley wherever she may be. I can also speak with her over the phone if that is better.

Let me know if this is possible.

Best,

Julia
