Hey Nikki, I hate folks who try to get invited to things they are not, but, if anyone should be invited to a Nascar event at your home it should be me, I as you and I talked about, invented that event and put it on my self for 5 years and sure would like to attend this one tomorrow.

Chip over at Darlington of course knows me but sounds like the list came from your office.
I would love to remain on your good list, I do work at more than tennis:)

Hope you are doing well and I love the way you do it.
