Subject: Gov Haley on offshore drilling

Hi, Brian,

Thanks for your help just now. As I said, I'm working on a story previewing the Interior Department's forthcoming 5-year plan for offshore drilling, and looking at what that means for the southeast Atlantic states. The story will focus on the divide between the governors and state legislators, who support the drilling, and the opposition of some of the coastal communities in those states, which have passed resolutions opposing the drilling. So I'm interested in getting the voices of the governors laying out why they see the drilling as economically beneficial to the states, particularly if it comes with revenue-sharing. I understand that you guys are slammed right now with primary stuff, but if y'all could send a statement or any recent remarks from the governor on this, that should probably work just fine. Meanwhile, could you add me to your press list? If you've got one that just goes out on energy/enviro issues, that would be great, if not, please just add me to your general press list.

Thanks so much,
Coral
