Mrs. McNicoll,

I apologize for not getting the answer yesterday, it took a bit longer than I projected.

We received Mrs. King's documents on 22 Sep and sent them yesterday to National Guard Bureau to have her law violations classified. The classification process typically takes 3 days. Once a determination is made we will then request a waiver if the offense can be waived. This waiver process can take up to 2 weeks and will determine her final eligibility. Mrs. King is aware of her status now and better understands the process and potential outcomes. I don't believe we explained the process very well which has been addressed.

Please let me know if you need any additional information.
Respectfully,

v/r

Good afternoon-

Thank you for reaching out to the South Carolina National Guard- we are happy to support.

I CC'd our Personnel and Recruiting Officers in this reply-

They would be best to provide you an answer about these processes and what types of records can be waived or if there are specific items that prohibit an individual from joining based on their ability to obtain a Security Clearance, etc. Often some of these items are out of our jurisdiction, but are directed by the Department of Defense in policy. These individuals in the CC section would know the latest guidance on joining and what stops the process.

Thank you!

Good Morning Colonel King,

Below is an email from a constituent, the Lieutenant Governor has asked us to see if there is any process that we could direct Ms. King to that would allow her to join the Guard. Thank you for your guidance.

Best Regards,

Dear Lieutenant Governor Bryant,

Thank you for your call concerning my current situation. I graduated from T.L. Hanna High School in 2010 and started college a year early. After falling in with the wrong crowd and a few bad decisions, I ended up in several years of drug abuse. Now, with almost 2 years of sobriety, a completely renewed life, and an unwavering faith, I wish to fulfill a strong sense of calling by joining the South Carolina National Guard in a medical role. Presently, I am in school working toward a BSN. Unfortunately, a finger print check revealed 2 counts of Loitering in a Drug Area from several years ago - charges that completely slipped my mind. As a result, the enrollment process with the Anderson recruiting office has been stopped. At that point in my life, I simply paid the fines and moved on, not realizing the effect it would have on my future. I am writing you to see if anything can be done to help me move past these forgotten charges and continue in the enrollment process for the Guard. I am in the process of finding out how to get these charges removed from my record. You have my complete permission to contact the National Guard on my behalf. Thank you for any assistance you can offer as I seek to fulfill this passion and continue my family tradition of serving my country through the National Guard.

Sincerely,

Catherine R. King
